NO. 1 GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE: Lieut. Governor Harold N. Handley, the No. 1 candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, will probably be too busy in the future to continue his Linotype lessons so determinedly started this week under R. A. Warren, Recorder Linotype operator. A known liberal, overwhelmingly popular with labor and minority groups, Lieut. Gov. Handley has more than a passing chance of winning the gubernatorial nomination at the Republican State Convention, to be held June 29 at the State Fairgrounds. He made the tour of the Recorder office Monday afternoon and was more than fascinated with the complicated Linotype machine.

Archie Says He's the Greatest; Seeks Title

LONDON—Archie Moore whose tongue is as fast and sharp as his power-laden fists, declared Tuesday night, "I am the best heavyweight in the world."

The ancient ring warrior was being questioned after his brutal technical knockout of Yolande Pompey in defense of his lightweight title. Reporters wanted to know "when, who and where" about his next title defense.

The glib-tongued fighter said he was the most qualified aspirant to the heavyweight crown recently vacated by Rocky Marciano. "And that's the title I'm after," he stated.

Many observers feel that nothing stands in Archie's way in his trek toward the big one. Nothing except the winner of the Floyd Patterson-Hurricane Jackson fight, many more contend.

Patterson, the young Olympic champ, and Hurricane, the youth full belter from Far Rockaway, N. Y., who gets his name honestly, were scheduled to clash Friday night. The winner has been promised a match with Moore for the championship.

The 39-year-old Archie cleared the last hurdle before him and the title fight when he pulverized the 27-year-old Pompey and the referee called a halt to the bloody proceedings at 2:50 of the 10th round at Harringway Arena.

IT WAS THE FIRST time the man from Trinidad had been stopped in 36 professional fights, and was only his third defeat.

Teenagers Beat Father Trying To Aid Children

A Northside father, trying to protect his 10-year-old daughter and 14-year-old son from a gang of hoodlums, was assaulted and beaten by the group of teenagers Tuesday while his wife was calling police.

The mother told officers that a neighborhood boy was fighting with her son and daughter, so she went out to separate them. The boy struck her son again, she said, and pulled a knife on him. In the meantime, a 15-year-old brother of the son's assailant had come on the scene and entered the altercation.

She called her husband and asked him to hold the 15-year-old boy while she called police. Four of the teenager's buddies came to his assistance, and when the woman returned, she found her husband lying on the ground.

Suffering multiple bruises and scratches, the father said the entire gang "jumped him."

Juvenile Aid officers were investigating the case Wednesday and had the parents of all the boys involved at headquarters for questioning.

Civil Rights Program Lost?

Sen. Eastland's Committee Has Delaying Tactics

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Eisenhower's civil rights program, hailed by liberals when it was submitted to Congress last April, has a tough road to travel before it reaches the Senate floor for vote, thanks to the cunningness of Sen. James Eastland, Mississippi Democrat.

Eastland, virulent and violent foe of civil rights, happens to be head of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which is hearing proponents and opponents of the administration's program, which calls for the appointment of a civil rights commission, establishment of a civil rights division in the Justice Department and increased powers for the attorney-general to enforce civil rights.

During an election year, when usual tactics have been put aside and more subtle ones devised, Eastland came up with an answer to a segregationist's prayer — a new type of "filibuster" which can delay Senate action on civil rights at infinitum.

The committee has adopted a procedure whereby only one opposition witness is heard each week, now that proponents have been done away with.

And with an estimated 75 witnesses, most of them Southern demagogues, waiting to be heard, such hearings will take a mighty long time.

Last Saturday the Senate committee heard from one opposition witness, Attorney-General William B. Rodman, Jr., of North Carolina, who said he opposes all federal

"NEW NEGRO" LEADER HONORED: Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, was honored last week by alumni of Fisk University with a citation for distinguished service and an honorarium of $500. The citation read, "In the Cradle of the Confederacy, you embodied the spirit of the New Negro, seeking equal justice under the law in the democratic tradition of the Christian spirit. You have demonstrated once again to the nation and to the world the tremendous power of moral conviction in a righteous endeavor, and in so doing you have served the cause of liberty and freedom everywhere." MAIL BOX NOT PLACE FOR KEYS

A Northside man discovered Monday that his mail box is no place to leave the keys to his house.

Thomas Moore, 22, summoned police when he returned from work and found his home had been entered and a suit and an undetermined amount of cash missing.

Mrs. Minnie Hall, 45, 1309 W. 32nd, told her neighbor she had seen a man walk into his home.

Moore admitted he leaves his key in the mail box. Police believe a person who was aware of the location of the key simply took it out of the box and opened the door.

HINDU SALESMAN STABBED

A much-arrested young Eastside man, who allegedly stabbed and robbed a Hindu jewelry salesman Friday of last week, faces life imprisonment as the result of his act.

LUTHER BEASLEY, 28, 1125 East 19th, who had confessed to knifing Mahud Abdul Asker, 32, 114 Dixon, Wednesday was charged with inflicting physical injury while in the commission of a robbery, which carries a life sentence upon conviction.

Det. Lieut. Spurgeon Davenport and Det. Sgt. James Rogers, who arrested Beasley Sunday after waiting four hours near his car, said they had a good case against the man. He has been arrested more than 20 times.

Asker, who came to this country a few months ago from India on a temporary visa, staggered upon the porch of 2302 Martindale at dusk last Friday, suffering stab wounds in both sides of

POLICE ARREST DOPE ADDICT, 21

Thomas Jerry Martin, 21, 935 1/2 W. 34th, described by police as "a known dope addict," was arrested by Det. Sgts. Anthony Watkins and Al Booth last Monday night when the officers spotted him in the 400 block of Indiana avenue.

He was arrested for violation of the General Narcotics Ordinance which makes it illegal for a dope addict to come upon a public street or enter a public place unless he can show he is being treated by a physician for relief of his "habit" or can show he is waiting admission to a narcotics hospital.

He appeared in Municipal Court 4 Tuesday, and Judge Virgil Norris continued the case to June 19.

Eight Local Men Cut Seriously

General Hospital ambulances and police homicide teams were kept busy over the past week as eight local men were cut seriously.

Anglen Brown, 29, 3453 N. Capital, started the wheels turning shortly after midnight Sunday morning when he was found in the 100 block of Blackford, bleeding profusely from gashes in his right arm and elbow.

The wounded man said he had been cut while scuffling with an unidentified man. Brown was arrested on a charge of drunk.

OTHANIEL WESTFIELD, 39, 1136 N. Pershing, was lying in the doorway of Gooch and Doty's Grill at 2237 W. 10th, early Sunday morning when police answered a report that a man had been stabbed.

Stabbed in the left side, just below the heart, Westfield told officers he had been knifed by a man unknown to him. The altercation was witnessed by Thomas Gooch, 37, 1032 N. Sheffield, and Earl Wharton, 31, 1016 N.

'Pigeon Game' Still Working; Earns $166

A 39-year-old Southside housewife was "taken" by two confidence men Friday of last week as she fell for the age-old "pigeon drop game."

Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, 39, 1411 S. Rural, told police she lost $166 to the smooth-talking men.

The woman said she first noticed the men while cashing a check at Ayres. One of the men came over and opened a brief conversation with her, she said.

She met them again outside Grant's department store, and the loquacious member of the team came up to her and said he had found a billfold containing $3,600. He was going to split the money with her and the other man, he told her, because they had seen him pick up the billfold.

However, before he could split the money, she would have to put up some money to prove her good faith.

She put $166 in his palm and the man said he wouldn't make the division of the money until he had consulted his boss at Morris Plan, where he claimed he had worked for 44 years. The woman was told to wait in front of Grant's until he returned.

Mrs. Wright finally got tired of waiting and called police.

Attacks To Graduate 168 Seniors Friday Night At Cadle Tabernacle

Atty. Beckwith Praises State School Set-Up

"Equality in education has enabled Indiana to give the nation far more than its relative share of distinguished Americans," Frank R. Beckwith asserted last Friday as he spoke to a banquet honoring 14 elementary and high school graduates in the Gold Room of the Washington Hotel.

Beckwith, attorney and president of the Yankee Doodle Civic Foundation, was principal speaker at the affair given by Peoples Temple, 15th and New Jersey, and attended by 80 members of the church and guests from Hamilton, Ohio.

He was presented by Rev. James Jones, pastor of Peoples Temple. Music was furnished by the choir and other singing groups of the church.

He told the graduates that the "heavy responsibility of tomorrow" rested on them, and added that he hoped those who live close to the church will rise to leadership.

Grant W. Hawkins Scheduled As Commencement Speaker

Grant W. Hawkins, first Negro member of the Indianapolis School Board, is listed as commencement speaker for Crispus Attucks high school at the school's 29th annual graduation exercises Friday night at 7:30 in Cadle Tabernacle, presenting diplomas to 168 graduates.

Preceding the formal program is a commencement concert to begin at 6:30 and continue until 7:10, with the Attacks band, under direction of Russell Brown, performing. The brass section of the band, composed of Virgil Jones, Kenneth Barnett, Theodore Patrick, Howard House, John Jacobs, Charles Amos and Sylvester DuPree, is to do the fanfare.

For the procession, the choir, chorus and orchestra, under the direction of LaVerne E. Newsome, the traditional "Land of Hope and Glory" by Edward Elgar is listed.

Another musical highlight scheduled is Schubert's "The Omnipotence," with Mrs. Marion Burch directing the choir, chorus and orchestra.

The program also includes a choral speech feature "Wanted: Young Adults with Personality," done by Beverly Clark, Jerry Williams, Mary Phillips and Jimmie L. Clay, followed by the orchestra playing the "Knightsbridge

Althea Gibson Scores Victory Over Britisher

SUBRITON, England — Althea Gibson, the tall, lithe New Yorker who is rapidly becoming the "Empire State" on the world's tennis skyline, smashed her way to her 14th championship in her triumphal Asian-European tour here last Saturday.

Driving steadily toward the big Wimbledon tournament later this month, the former Wilberforce University star won her most recent victory with 6-3 and 13-11 wins over Anne Shilcock of Great Britain in the finals of the Surrey Lawn tennis championships.

The triumph gave her ninth straight European title. She won the French Invitational Tournament at Paris two weeks ago and won another title at Subriton on Wednesday of last week.

Miss Gibson, the first Negro woman to be ranked by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, looked weak on her backhand shots, but her long reach and overpowering strength paid off in the second set over the determined Britisher.

Adell Cooks Wins First 'New' Gamma Phi Delta Scholarship

Lucky girl! Pictured here is Miss Adell Cooks, Gamma Phi Delta sorority's recipient of the first scholarship under a new policy recently established.

Gamma chapter of Gamma Phi Delta sorority has announced Miss Cooks as winner of a four-year scholarship. Under the new policy a girl is chosen in her senior year in high school and is sponsored from her last semester in high school through four years of college.

Adell will attend Indiana University for a two-week journalism course in July as part of her scholarship from the sorority.

She also has been chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary to attend "Girls' State" on the campus of Indiana University this month. She is the winner of three achievement awards from Crispus Attucks high school.

The sorority scholarship was made possible by the success of the "Winter Carnival" sponsored by the chapter and planned as an annual affair.

Mrs. Mildred Porter, basileus of the chapter, said in announcing the scholarship, "Financing a girl through four years of college will be an enormous project, but we of Gamma Phi Delta feel it's a worthy cause, and with the continued support of our public to our scholarship affairs, there will be more lucky girls."

Women Attend Funeral in Kentucky

Mrs. F. E. Johnson, 340 West 29th street, her sister, Mrs. Rosa Bedford, 1715 Hartford street, Lafayette, and Mrs. Johnson's daughter, Mrs. Inez J. Babb, 145 West 22nd street, have returned from Bowling Green, Ky., where they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mary C. S. Murrell.

Mrs. Murrell was a native of Bowling Green, but died in Washington, D. C., where she had lived for many years.

L. Merrifield.

Another tradition is the closing with taps and reveille, this year's trumpeter being Virgil Jones of the '56 class.

The annual commencement program is the culminating affair of a series of events which included various informal class gatherings, senior play and the more formal baccalaureate service.

Rev. James L. Cummings, pastor of Trinity CME Church, delivered the sermon at the Senior Vesper Services Sunday in the school auditorium. His subject was, "Standing Up to Life," taken from Ephesians 6:10-13.

The a cappella choir, directed by Norman Merrifield, sang the invocation and rendered "Prayer" at the end of the program.

Russell Brown, playing the organ, provided music for the procession and recessional.

Maxine Cornell, soprano, accompanied by Richard Bailey, and Theodore Gentry, also accompanied by Bailey, were soloists.

Dr. Lane made announcements, and Maxine Cornell and Gentry sang a duet before Jerry Williams gave the benediction.

Virginia Lily Mae Akers, James Eldrich Bunkley, Shirley Ann Crossin, Jesse Mack Cunningham, Frances Lee Harris, Henry Jacks, Jr., Virgil Jones, James Henry Miller, Franklin Cedric Minton, Mary Anita Phillips, Adrienne Smith, Barbara Jean Wells, and Robert Leonard Woods, all graduated with honor standing, having completed their major subjects with an "A" average.

to the 175-pound limit, was behind on points going into the ninth when he first opened up. He hit the younger fighter 14 hard times in the ninth and opened cuts around both eyes and started blood gushing from his nose.

The champion dropped the challenger three times in the tenth, for an eight count, a nine count and another eight count. Pompey was a pitiful sight, with his face a bloody mask, his eyes blank and his legs wobbly when the referee threw his arms around him and waved a signal of the end.

"NOW I WANT THAT HEAVY-weight title," Archie told the crowd in his dressing room. "Marciano nominated me as his logical successor." His manager, Charley Johnston, said, "Archie is obviously the man for the heavyweight title." He said his charge would rest up awhile after their return to The States. He added that Moore would not think of giving up his light-heavy crown until he has the heavyweight belt snugly around his waist.

Jack Kearns, the old manager of Jack Dempsey, watched Moore apply his scapel-like fists to Pompey and said afterwards, "Moore took his time. He knew the fight was for 15 rounds so he took his time and tagged Pompey as soon as he was ready."

"Moore would be a different man as a heavyweight. He would not have to shed those pounds. He obviously has no equal in the heavyweight ranks today. He is the standout heavyweight among the contenders for Rocky Marciano's crown."

civil rights measures, not only those requested by the administration, but also measures previously introduced by Northern Democrats.

THE NEXT HEARING was tentatively set for Friday of this week, in line with the committee's avowal to hold only one hearing a week on civil rights legislation. On top of the main delaying tactic, so far all hearings have been held in the afternoons, making them subject to interruption or cancellation if the members are called to the Senate floor to answer quorum calls or to vote on bills up for action.

Included among proponents of the bills, already heard, were spokesmen for the NAACP.

Robert Young, staff counsel for the committee, said eight or nine Southern state attorneys-general are scheduled to testify and that about an equal number of Southern senators and twice as many House members have been asked to be heard.

FORMER GOVERNORS Herman Talmadge of Georgia and James F. Byrnes of South Carolina are among the "sizeable number" of other Southerners listed by Young as wanting to appear before the Senate committee.

Even if the committee concludes its hearings and recommends legislation before the end of the session, the threat of a Southern filibuster in the Senate itself will still lie ahead.

Two Arrests May Crack Teenagers' "Syndicate"

A so-called "syndicate" of young hoodlums who reportedly wage vicious, wanton attacks against individuals and small groups of teenagers in a general reign of terror on the Eastside was believed broken Thursday morning when detectives arrested two youths.

CHARLES JONES, 21, 1644 Bundy place, and DAVID LOCKETT, 18, 2347 N. Rural, were charged with assault and battery.

Forest Jones, Jr., 18, 2804 Martindale, and Harrison Hunter, 19, 2257 N. Arsenal, signed warrants against the two youths, charging them with being members of a large gang that attacked them Tuesday night as they left the Skatena, 27th and Schofield.

Jones was treated at General Hospital for head and face injuries and Hunter, a close friend, reportedly suffered a broken nose in the attack.

The fighting centered around Jones. He said the "syndicate" had one of his brothers cornered and he went to find out what was going on. He claimed Charles Jones struck him in the face and "someone" hit him with a shovel from behind.

When he was finally able to wade through the gang of striking, kicking youths, witnesses said his clothes were torn and his face was a bloody mess.

HUNTER SAID he was attacked without cause. He said he was "just standing there" when Lockett blasted him squarely in the face. Lockett, who has been arrested before, admitted striking Jones, but said he did so only after the other boy swung at him with a pair of skates.

Witnesses told The Recorder that Jones had not swung his skates and said the gang "simply attacks anyone its members do not like." Jones and Hunter were described as "nice fellas who never bother anyone."

woman told her eager granddaughter, "Go up there and get your grandpa." Mrs. Tucker went into her home and called firemen.

Mr. Tucker, who has started building a new family home at Keystone and Reformer, a block from his present home, was working on the foundation for the new home.

Florence rushed the news to her grandfather, and they both ran all the way back to the Tribune house.

Tucker knocked on the door and then shook it determinedly in an attempt to open it. Finally he managed to get into the house.

But by then the flames and smoke were so intense that thick he couldn't make his way into the bedroom where he saw Trabue lying across the bed, near a window.

The elderly man rushed out of the house and around to the side window. He smashed the window with his bare fist and then raised it.

He reached in and lifted Trabue from the bed, pulling him to safety.

FIREMEN ARRIVED on the scene after the rescue, and Trabue was sent to Methodist Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation. He was released after it was found his condition was not serious.

Battalion Chief Albert Stammer said Trabue, alone in the house fell asleep in the bedroom with a lighted cigarette in his hand. The cigarette fell from his relaxed fingers and set fire to the mattress of the bed.

The fire was confined to the one room, and damage was slight. Trabue suffered burns on the hand.

His wife, Dorothy, was at work at J. C. Penney Department Store when the fire broke out. His son, Roderic, 13, was at a nearby playground.

Tucker, an Eli Lilly employee, suffered cuts on the hand when he smashed the window.

Local Men Cut

Pershing, witnessed the stabbing but did not supply any additional information.

JOHN HENRY GOMILLIA, 24, 1968 Ralston, summoned police to 16th and Roosevelt last Sunday night and showed them cuts in his left side, stomach and right leg.

Gomilla said he was driving on Roosevelt when a car suddenly forced him to the curb. He got out of his car, the driver of the other car got out, and an argument followed. He said the other man, known to him as "Smith," pulled a knife and worked him over.

LAWRENCE FLEMING, 29, 335 N. California, turned up at the General Hospital receiving ward Sunday night for treatment of two long cuts on the left side of the chest. He said he was walking west on 10th street, near Paca, when three young men jumped out of a vacant lot.

The men asked him for a cigarette, he said and another hit him in the face with his fist. The third man cut him. He didn't know any of them by name but believes he can identify them should he see them again, he told police.

ARTHUR HISER, 19, 511 N. California, was taken to the hospital for treatment of a deep laceration in the right forearm. He said he received the wound in the 300 block of Indiana avenue when three men jumped him.

JOHN HAYES, 32, 1101 Eugene street, had been cut on the left shoulder when police were called to 28th and Clifton last Sunday night. He said he was cut by a man known to him only as "Sugar Boy" while at 2720 Clifton.

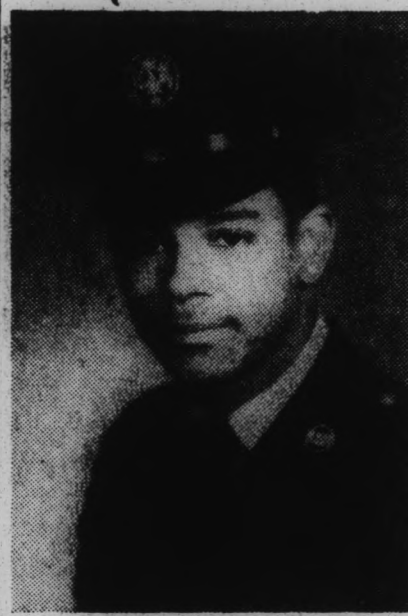

DONALD COFFER, 28, 1620 Carrollton, was bleeding from a cut in the left side, just above the belt line, and another cut in the left arm when police found him on an Eastside street.

The man said his wounds were the result of a traffic argument he had had. He said William Bridges, 32, 1815 Yandes, cut him after an argument which started when Bridges blew his horn at Coffey. According to Coffey, Bridges blew his horn at him, then got out of his car and started cutting him.

PORTER BOWERS, 43, 834 S. Senate, accused Sylvester Allen, 56, of attacking him when police found Bowers suffering three cuts about the throat and right wrist. Tuesday afternoon, Bowers said he was attacked by Allen without cause.

Allen said he cut Bowers during an argument which started when Bowers accused him of taking $5 from him. He also said Bowers drew a knife on him first.

Both men were arrested. Bowers was charged with disorderly conduct and taken to General Hospital in an ambulance. Allen was booked for assault and battery with intent to murder.

Hindu Stabbed

the chest. He said he had been attacked by a man who told him he did not like the deal he had got from him. The man also took a suitcase containing watches and fabrics.

The Indian gave police the license number of the car the man and two companions fled the scene in. The plates had been reported stolen.

Lieut. Davenport and Sgt. Rogers spotted the car answering the description and bearing the reported license plates at 19th and Martindale. The crack detective team parked in the vicinity and held the car under surveillance until Beasley and a woman companion started to get in.

BEASLEY READILY admitted stabbing the man, but said it was in self-defense.

He said he had bought a watch from the Hindu three months ago and at the time the salesman had represented the watch as having 17 jewels. He paid $35 for it, he said.

The timepiece wouldn't keep time, he claimed, and he discovered it had only "one" jewel in it. When he spotted the man peddling in his neighborhood the day of the stabbing, Beasley stated, he went up to him and asked him for his money back. He said the man reached in his pocket and he stabbed him when he thought the man was attempting to pull a knife or gun.

Leroy Purnell, 22, 2452 Ralston, was with Beasley at the time of the stabbing and Beasley's common-law wife, Zenobia Brooks, 24, and another friend were in the car.

Purnell later gave himself up and said he had no idea Beasley planned to stab and rob the man when he got out of the car with him.

Lieut. Davenport said Purnell came to Indianapolis only last December from Wyoming, Miss., and has only a fourth-grade education. He said his office is conducting a continued investigation into the youth's role in the crime.

ASKER, RECOVERING in General Hospital, said he did not remember selling Beasley a watch. However, he added he might have but said it would not have sold for over nine dollars.

He said Beasley approached him in the 200 block of Martindale and demanded a refund on a watch he said he had bought. Beasley didn't produce a watch. Asker said he felt the man was going to "do something" to him so he started inching his way to 2302 Martindale where he had made a sale the night before. He thought the people there would permit him to call police.

Beasley and Purnell cut him off, he said, and Beasley grabbed him in the collar and stabbed him when he would not give him money.

Grade School Girls Raped By Teenagers

Sheriff's investigators this week continued their search for four teenage boys who reportedly raped two truant grade-school girls Tuesday morning.

The alleged crime was uncovered when one of the girls returned home Tuesday afternoon, earlier than her usual time for arrival from school.

Upon being questioned by her mother, the 12-year-old pupil unfolded the following story:

She had been late for school, and as she neared the building another tardy girl told her there was no point in her going to school late and invited her to "come along."

THEY WERE WALKING on 28th street when a late-model Pontiac pulled along side them. The other girl knew the youths, who were between the ages of 16 and 18, according to the story.

The youths invited the girls to "come go for a ride" and they piled into the car.

Near the 4500 block on N. Arlington, the boys stopped the car and two of the boys raped one girl while their buddies attacked the other, it is charged.

Social Scene

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

While writing this, snatching time out from being very much a serious newspaper editor pro tem, occasioned by the fact that Scotty Scott, our managing editor, has trekked off to Tallahassee, Fla., to get a first-hand look at the looming bus boycott situation there, leaving the whole job of producing Indiana's greatest weekly on my little shoulders, it seems difficult to imagine that just last week I was very much the social man-about-town.

Yet, such was the case and I loved every minute of it. Tuesday night of last week saw two gay dances, one a tradition by now, the other a wonderful surprise to those who got a chance to see the Bachelor Benedicts prove that they were not dead, but had merely been taking a long nap preparatory to giving a really enjoyable affair.

Although actually 53 years old, the club chose to celebrate its golden anniversary with the nicely-arranged formal dance at the FAC Home last week, perhaps because the theme lent itself so easily to a decorative scheme. Along the north end of the wall was "Bachelor Benedict Club, 1903-1956" in gilded letters and numerals, while a huge bouquet of flowers on the piano at the improvised bandstand was done in gold with a large card imprinted "50" to emphasize the theme. Vases of flowers were on the individual tables.

A surprise feature of the dance was a floor show by Jon Lei and some of his dancers. Beth Williams and his Roving Troubadours furnished music for the dance. A delicious buffet supper, featuring turkey and ham with all the trimmings, was served.

Assuring the success of the dance were J. Wallace Hall and Richard Chavers, chairman of the entertainment committee; Sea H. Ferguson and Henry McCall, food, and Cecil R. Powell and Bowling S. Gordon, decorations.

Officers of the leading men's club are Messrs. Powell, president; Chavers, vice-president; Hall, secretary; Amos Thompson, assistant secretary, and Dr. Lucian D. Meriwether, treasurer.

Other members are Bert Boyd, Arthur Dodson, George Gaillard, Dr. Guy L. Grant, James Hill, Robert Johnson, Robert Marbury, Joel Overstreet, Greenville Smith, Wallace Waugh, Henry Wilson and Travis Whitte.

Among out-of-town guests were Mrs. C. R. Rodgers, Chicago, guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Guy L. Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling McElwaine, Lafayette, and Mrs. John Roxborough, Detroit, guests of the Powells.

Meanwhile, over the IBEW Hall, the Snakes club men were doing themselves up proud with a super-duper of a formal dance set in a tropical garden. Major attraction was a handsome pond in front of the bandstand, surrounded with tropical greenery and a graceful egret.

Miss Sharon Enix, hostess and chairman of decorations, had let her imagination have a free reign, with baskets of fruits hanging all over the place, even a monkey or two in sight and the individual tables decorated with pineapples containing gardenias and lighted candles. Palm leaves and more tropical greenery, of course, profusely in evidence.

Buddy Bryant's orchestra played for the approximately 500 guests to enjoy dancing. Officers of the club, with their proper snake names, are Howard Enix, president; Cecil R. Powell, Prim, vice-president; King Charles Dickson, secretary, boia constrictor; Herbert Martin, assistant secretary, mamba; Winfred Todd, treasurer, ferde lance; Solomon Wynn, financial secretary, garter; Harvey Sears, chaplain, rattler; John Southern, chairman of social committee, blue racer, and Herschell Buckner, sergeant-at-arms, cobra.

Other members are George DeCoursey, fox; Herbert Thompson, glass; Charles Walker, bushmaster; Curtis Stephens, ring horse; Homer Mays, copperhead; C. J. Hughes, anaconda; Sgt. Thomas Johnson, python; Lorenzo Pritchett, death adder.

Taking the spotlight on Wednesday night of last week was the "come dressed like a song" party given by Mr. and Mrs. Delmore Hawkins. The musical motif was used all over the house, while the service table represented Speedway, with race cars and flags as decorations.

First prize for the most original and unique musical idea was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Greene, who came as "The Hit Parade." Mrs. Greene made her appearance with raincoat, rain bonnet and boots, representing "Rain," while her hair glittered to represent "Star Dust." Her Parisian cocktail dress was bedecked with glittered notes and two lips to suggest "Make Mine Music" and "Smiles."

Bernard Greene wore a string tied around his finger representing "Remember" and a large moon on his back to say, "Shine On, Harvest Moon."

Miss Frances Bland and Ned Bess came as Hawaiians, their song being, naturally "Sweet Lei Lani" and were second-prize winners. Al Ferguson, Jr., won third prize with "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Other guests present were Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Walker, Hubert Petty, William Sargent, Howard Fillmore, Andrew Creighton and Napoleon Richey, Miss Esther Keno, Paul Johnson and Harold Willis.

Saturday brought another beautifully-arranged affair, this time a luncheon-shower given by Mrs. Rufus C. Kuykendall and Miss Emma Mae Allison honoring Mrs. Henry L. Hummons, Jr., of Louisville and Buffalo.

There's a wee bit of historical background which makes Saturday's affair especially significant;

Mrs. Hummons, the former Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Schaeffer, at one time attended Butler University and was a member of a popular club at that time, the Clique Club, of which you guessed it? Mrs. Kuykendall and Miss Allison were also members. Also former members, and still living here, were Mesdames Charles Walker, Walter Perkins and Flonoy Hutchinson.

Other members of the college-days group are scattered about somewhat, but they all sent gifts and cards for honoree's sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen Hummons Anderson, Gary, Mrs. Hallie Beacham Brooks, Atlanta, Ga., and her sister, Mrs. Octavine Ferguson, Richmond, and Mrs. Louise Moss Webb, Chicago.

Also sending gifts were two other long-time friends, Mrs. Paul Jewell, sister of Miss Allison, from Princess Anne, Md., and Mrs. Daisy Payne Fountleroy, Chicago.

Sixty women were invited to the luncheon, held at Flanner House. The long table, absolutely laden with fabulous gifts, was pretty, too, against a background of a florist's stand holding about eight ferns and a big bouquet of flowers. Flowers were also in vases at the individual tables, of course.

The hostesses thought up a cleverly different game to play: sort of a "numbers" game was played, based on the recent bride's name, birthday, wedding date, month she got her ring, address in Louisville and address in Buffalo. Winning the six prizes were Mesdames F. D. Hummons, James Anderson, Hobson Zeigler, C. B. Cox, E. D. Moten and Otis R. Bryant.

Assisting as hostesses were Mesdames George Woodson, Everett I. Hall, Andrew Ramsey and Thomas C. Grubbs and Miss Emily Belle Garrett.

Also guests from Louisville were Mesdames Nettie Black, mother of Mrs. Hummons; Carolyn Blanton, her aunt, and Myrtle Forbes, her sister. A surprise guest was Mrs. Fredericka Brown Smith, Girl Reserves secretary at the YWCA while the group were all in college here.

Mrs. Smith and her husband, Dr. Robert Smith, were visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Roy D. Clinchome. That night the Fourteen Lambs club went all out to have an especially pretty dance at the IBEW Hall. With their name, what else could they do but use lambs to give a distinctive decor? Following the club colors of blue and white, they had lambs everywhere—made of cardboard in white, trimmed with blue and with white and blue ribbon around their necks, they were all over the walls; on the stage, one large one sufficed, bearing a sign saying "14 lambs." The name of the tables was "Lambs," standing guard over the tables.

Really lovely was the arrangement of blue and white carnations on the stage, where more summer greenery, palms, etc., helped form a cooling effect. The pillars in the large hall were covered with blue and white paper.

Dudley Storms and his popular band provided dance music. Following the affair, there were several breakfast parties, among them those of my own hostess, Mrs. Ida Lyles, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary Edwards, president, that I know about.

Other members are Mesdames Helen Keno, vice-president; Gladys Reed, secretary; Bernice Jones, financial secretary; Gladys Adams, sergeant-at-arms; Gladys Rowlette, business manager; Queen Cook, Norma Price, Louise Early, Perry Owens and Johnnie Simpson.

Commanding attention Sunday afternoon was "Cotton Capers," a fashion show and dance sponsored by Gamma chapter of Tau Gamma Delta sorority at the IBEW Hall for benefit of its annual scholarship fund.

The program, divided into three parts, featured "Morning Capers," which included a varied assortment of town and country apparel, with M/Sgt. Earl D. Black showing attire of the U. S. Army.

Also under the general classification of "Service Units" were Joseph Kimbrow, representing the Indianapolis Fire Department, Fire Station No. 1; Lieut. James F. Hall, Indianapolis civilian police; Eugene Porter, postal service, and ex-Cpl. Roddie Northington, U. S. Marines.

"Afternoon Capers" suggested wear for lounge time, tea time, bridge time, cocktail time and date time, while "Evening Capers" included among other lavish gowns a request showing by Mrs. Beatrice Curry of the 500-pleater creation by Ann Rogers in orange and pink floral pattern.

Other models included Mrs. Thelma Sansbury, the Misses Roslyn Green, Judith Lockett and Charlotte Bass, Lafayette, and Messrs. Jon Lei, Ronald Sammons and Sidney Smith. Mrs. Helen Messers, Jon Lei, Ronald Sammons. The stage, airily decorated with spring greenery, was occupied by Specs Maynard and his orchestra for dancing following the fashion show.

Mrs. Brawley was chairman of the "Cotton Capers" committee, with Mrs. Bernadine McPherson as co-chairman. Other committee members were Mesdames June Dishman, Jewel LaRue, Lois Brown, Mabel Russ, Mary Helen Dunn, Elnora Starks, Ruth Johnson, Marjorie Keyes, Lillian Kenney, Mary Emma Landrum and Winifreda Nelson and Miss Esther

AN ENJOYABLE TIME WAS HAD BY ALL: Decoration Day, with its special attraction in Indianapolis, always brings a busy social season to the city, and this year was no exception. Just a few of the many social events are pictured here. In Picture No. 1 are models in "Cotton Capers" sponsored by Gamma chapter of Tau Gamma Delta last Sunday. They are Miss Roseline Green, Miss Charlotte Bass of Lafayette, Mesdames Thelma Sansbury and Beatrice Grace Curry and Miss Judith Lockett. In the insets are "service-men" honored by the chapter. They are former Marine Corporal Roddie Northington, Eugene Porter, U. S. postal service; Sgt. Thomas Davis, local civilian police; Joseph Kimbrow, fire department, and M/Sgt. Earl D. Black, U. S. Army Recruiting Office. Picture No. 2 shows some of the Fourteen Lambs who sponsored their spring formal Saturday night. Left to right are Mesdames Ida Lyles, treas-

Williams. Mrs. Marie Caesar is basileus of the local chapter.

While patrons of that sorority were busily being entertained, members of the Me-De-Phar Guild and their families were relaxing at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Briggs for their annual picnic. The picnic, so early in the season, was made a beautiful thing by the profusion of blooming flowers all over the Briggs grounds.

Relax was all the picnicers could do after they had demolished a table laden with fried chicken, ham and beef and other delicious fare, including Boston baked beans direct from Boston.

Outdoor games, among them tennis and croquet, were enjoyed, and Dr. Briggs was gaily dancing about taking pictures of everything interesting.

Mrs. Frank Lloyd was chairman of the picnic, and Mrs. Frank Chowning is president of the guild.

A little party from here motored to Lafayette on Sunday afternoon to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling R. McElwaine, who entertained with a dinner party honoring J. Wesley Hall on his birthday.

Guests included, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Dr. and Mrs.

Bernard Pritchett, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greer, the Misses Annie Pritchett and Zenobia Fisher and Mrs. Cloyd Smith of Detroit, here visiting her brother and sister, Dr. and Miss Pritchett.

The McElwaine's daughter, Miss Naomi McElwaine, technician at the Chicago Heart Bank, is visiting her parents and thus got in on the deal. As anyone who has ever visited the McElwaine's would know, the table flowers, all the vegetables, rabbits and fried chicken were grown by the hosts.

Mr. Hall, it goes without saying, was the recipient of many fine gifts and cards. Mrs. Smith has returned to Detroit after visiting the Pritchetts.

On Monday, I was a delighted guest at School No. 23, which closed its 1956 yards beautiful program with a garden tour and judging of yards for prizes. After the tour, it was back to the school, where fourth-grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Fannie Shobe Wilson did a cleverly-arranged puppet show emphasizing the need for yard beautification.

After that came a delicious crab salad luncheon, featuring rolls so fabulous I started to swipe those of everyone else. Teachers helping serve were Mesdames Christina Stuart and Elizabeth Dixon and the Misses Virgie Dunville, Ruth Ratcliffe and Florabelle Williams, while two other teachers, Mesdames Mercedes King and DeLores Wilson helped chauffeur the garden tourists.

Enjoying the affair were also Mesdames Vera Hopping, elementary co-ordinator of the school system; Lelia Bail, School 23 PTA president; Mary P. McGuire, our

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

"I am going to see Jesus" was the text taken by Dr. F. Benjamin Davis for funeral services of Mrs. Mary Means, a member of New Bethel Baptist Church many years. Knowing Mrs. Means, many will say Rev. Davis chose a very fitting Scripture, for we find in this same 14th chapter of St. John, verse 21, "He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me, and he that loveth me shall be loved of my father, and I will love him."

As a splendid Sunday school worker in the cradle roll department for years, she expressed such love for Jesus.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at New Bethel, with the King and King Funeral Home in charge. Soloists were Mrs. Esther Lynch and Wallace Wolfolk. Including Mrs. Rosetta Bailey and Bert Means, there were six grown children and 39 or more grandchildren.

In spite of the heavy rain, the church was filled to capacity, so I was told. Thanks to William Bailey, 1956 Columbia avenue, for the outline of the service. We were flooded in that day.

Mrs. Phoebe Symington, 1956 Columbia avenue, mother of Mrs. Dorothy Harris, has been shut in for some time, but is reported doing nicely. She is an active member of True Vine Baptist Church and is widely known in Eastside circles.

The Eastside Better Business and Civic League held its closing meeting for the season last Monday in the home of Mrs. Annie Mae Horton, 2718 Columbia avenue, and named Daniel Lee chairman of the opening affair to be held in October. He will be assisted by Mesdames Cora Wilson, Orlando Moss, Beatrice Holfield, Viola Mills, Ethel Merker and Betty Marks, James Horton and Howard Connell.

Nearly $60 was turned in by Mrs. Holfield and Mrs. Lillian Wallace, with Mrs. Wilson as secretary of the committee. It was announced that tokens for beautiful yards will be made in September, at the time of the opening of the schools which played such a great part.

Among those spending the 30th out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maxwell, 705 North Senate avenue, who left for a two-week stay in California. Mr. Maxwell formerly lived in the Eastside.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Beeler, 1951 Bellefontaine street, motored to Cincinnati for Memorial Day, accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beeler, and Gerald Taylor.

The Pastor's Aid of St. Luke Baptist Church had a special service last Sunday afternoon, with Mesdames Beatrice Johnson and M. Gibson serving on the committee. Rev. A. M. Hughes, pastor, gave final remarks.

Mrs. Ersa Smith gave a beautifully-arranged tea last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rose E. Edwards for benefit of the New Bethel Baptist Church building fund. All deacons of the church are to raise $50 by next Sunday's ground-breaking.

On Monday the columnist served

TALENTED SOPRANO: Miss Mildred F. Johnson, will leave June 19 for New York City to audition with famed singer Rose Hampton preparatory to studying there, and her church, Zion Baptist, has arranged two appreciation programs in her honor, one to be held Friday night, June 15, at Shiloh Baptist Church, and the other Monday night, June 18, at Jacobs Brothers Eastside Chapel. Miss Johnson will be featured in each program, along with friends and fellow-students and teachers at the Jordon College of Music. An instructor at the McArthur Conservatory of Music, she will sing Sunday morning at Second Christian Church in a series being sponsored by the school. Making up the committee arranging the appreciation program are her pastor, the Rev. Roy W. Beverly, Rev. H. T. Green, pastor of West Parkview Baptist Church, and Richard C. Henderson, music critic of The Recorder.

27, with Mrs. Elizabeth Morton serving as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Mabel Gardner was responsible for the large number of participants appearing. Rev. and Mrs. P. C. Owens appeared on the program. Mrs. Sadie Hardman is president.

Dr. Wynne Arnholter Addresses Career Mothers' Day Luncheon

Dr. Wynne Arnholter, herself an outstanding local career mother, delivered an address at the May luncheon meeting of the Career Mothers' club, held at Flanner House. Dr. Arnholter, formerly chief psychologist at Central State Hospital and for seven years teenage editor of The Indianapolis Star, holds a doctorate in psychology.

Presently she assists two psychiatrists in a mental health clinic and is employed by the School Board as a psychological consultant and psychology teacher.

Being a career mother, she clearly presented and explained responsibilities of the working mother. She pointed out that such mothers are responsible not only to their children and their spouses, but to themselves, also.

The club members and their guests, all of whom were career mothers, received greater insight into their particular roles as working mothers and wives. In appreciation for the interesting, inforluncheon guests were Mesdames Mary Anne Noleck, Barbara Blackman, Frances Smith, Grace Ransom, Edna Simms, Winifred Davis, Eleanor Robinson, Edna Leslie and Jessica Ervin.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Toliver, 710 North West street, left Monday for Vallejo, Calif., to visit a niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hawkins. They will also visit relatives in Chicago.

Local Players Choose O'Neill Works for Second Performance

The Northwestern Community Center, 2360 Northwestern avenue, will present the New World Players, recently organized group of young thespians, in their second performances this weekend, Saturday and Sunday nights at 8:15. This time the players, who made their debut in "Cat of Nine Tails," will do two plays by the dramatist Eugene O'Neill, author of such great plays as "Emperor Jones," "Mourning Becomes Electra," "Desire Under the Elms" and others.

The New World Players will do two one-act productions, "Before Breakfast" and "The Dreamy Kid."

"Before Breakfast" depicts a sorry husband who loafs around ballrooms while his wife is the breadwinner. At result of her constant nagging, he finally commits suicide. The scene is New York City in one of the low-class neighborhoods.

The wife is played by Robbie Crawford, and Oscar Crawford is the husband.

"The Dreamy Kid" is a problem play about Negro life. It tells a story of a family which moved North. "Mother Saunders" is laden in years and is getting ready to die, but her great hope is that she will see her son Ame. "The Dreamy Kid" before she passes. Above, however, has been dealing with the wrong group of boys and

Women's Federated Club News

By CLARA PHILLIPS

Mrs. Haidee Wilson presided over this week's very interesting meeting of the City Federation after the usual opening led by the chaplain. Beautification of the club home yard was discussed, and several ladies volunteered their services to help in cleaning, trimming shrubbery and planting flowers.

Mrs. Derotha Breeding, chairman of transportation, reminded the club women who are going to Fort Wayne to prepare early and plan to be ready about 7 a. m. to make the trip July 7 for the state convention.

Mrs. Very Dancy, one of the pioneer club women, was present, and everyone was very happy to see her, as she had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Estella Swancy, chairman of ways and means, announced that ham with all the trimmings would be served for the closing pitch-in dinner in July after the convention.

The Thursday Coterie was the honor club Tuesday, with about eight members present. They

Anniversary Sunday, June 10-11th

The officers and members of the South Calvary Baptist Church, 1146 South Kenwood Avenue, are observing the EIGHTH ANNI-VERSARY of their pastor and wife,
Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Manuel, Sr., who have served this very fine congregation for eight years. The celebration will begin Sunday morning, with the Sunday school.
MORNING WORSHIP at 11:00 o'clock with Rev. A. Dozier, associate minister of South Calvary, bringing the morning message.
The anniversary sermon in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, will be delivered by Rev. P. C. Owens, pastor of Eastern Star Baptist Church. Rev. Upton Bryant, associate minister will speak at 7:30
p. m.

The singing groups will be at their best furnishing the music.
MONDAY NIGHT, following the sermon by Rev. E. T. Johnson of Mt. Moriah Baptist Church the reception will follow.
Rev. Manuel has accomplished much in these eight years; 587 additions have been added to the church membership; the new edifice erected at a cost of $80,000, has been reduced to $38,000, which shows what can be accomplished with a co-operative staff of officers and members, who are willing to follow under such a progressive leadership.

Mrs. Manuel has worked faithfully beside her husband and has been very helpful in his accomplishments. Rev. Manuel, is a product of Indianapolis and a former employee of The Indianapolis Recorder.
The public is cordially invited to attend this celebration and show your appreciation to this man of God.

CHURCH EVENTS ... of the City

By WILLA THOMAS

Elder Morris Golder will be guest speaker Sunday afternoon at 3 at Corinthian Baptist Church for the "Trustee and Deacon Day."

THE MISSIONARY CHORUS of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, will present a musical program Sunday night at 8, directed by Miss Mary Fitts.

"STATE JUNIOR Missionary Day" will be held Sunday, June 24, at St. John Baptist Church, South Bend, with the host pastor, Dr. B. L. White, as guest speaker. All junior missionaries of the city and state are invited to attend this meeting, which will open at 3 in the afternoon. All persons from Indianapolis planning to attend are urged to call the state president, Mrs. Frances Ramsey, and make reservations.

HOW YOU USE YOUR MONEY has a great deal to do with what you get out of life, says Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. He states further that the secret is not in getting and keeping money, but in giving it. Tithing in the Church is not enough. We must share self also. We all want and need enough material blessings to live effectively and do constructive work in this world, and it is no sin to have money.

It is not money, but the love of money, which is the root of evil. When we learn the art of giving money, and ourselves with it, we are really getting somewhere in this world. There is an amazing law of supply, and through it the best things in life will flow to you.

THE BROTHERHOOD of St. Paul AME Church will meet Tuesday of each week at the church at 8 p.m. All men of the church are invited to join.

EVANGELIST CLAUDINE RICE, pastor of the Lighthouse Temple, has announced that the church has moved to 17th and Roosevelt avenue, and that week-day services will be held on Tuesday and Thursday night of each week at 8.

MEMBERS of The Christian Methodist Episcopal Church returned home last week after attending the church conference in Akron. Among those attending were Rev. J. B. Turner, pastor of Northside CME church; Rev. H.

Integration To Cost Teachers Jobs In Ky.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (ANP)—The integration of classrooms in many Kentucky school districts this fall will cost many well-qualified Negro teachers their jobs, the Kentucky Council on Human Relations reported last week.

The council said the job losses are threatened despite the fact that Negro teachers in Kentucky are better prepared than white teachers in all levels.

A recent survey by the human relations groups shows that so far 60 Negro teachers in 29 of the state's school districts have been given dismissal papers.

The reason, in most cases, is that consolidation under plans to desegregate has reduced the number of teachers needed next school year.

But, even so, Negro teachers with college degrees are being dismissed despite the fact that Kentucky this year has 2,557 non-qualified "emergency" teachers in its public school system.

THE COUNCIL has mailed letters to all superintendents urging them to "retain and hire teachers on the basis of their merit rather than on the basis of their race."

The council quoted data from the State Department of Education that will show Negro teachers in Kentucky are better prepared than white teachers in all levels.

Statistics show, for example, that 85 percent of the 1,423 Negroes employed in the public schools this year, but only 58 percent of the 20,077 white teachers, have A. B. degrees or higher.

The contrast is even more striking among elementary teachers. Seventy-seven percent of the Negroes, but only 40 percent of the whites, have degrees.

The survey shows that so far 80 school districts plan to retain all their Negro teachers next year. There are 79 other Kentucky districts that do not now employ Negro teachers.

Many Indiana Communities Benefit Directly From Vast Bell Telephone Purchases

The Bell Telephone System spent more than $20 million with Hoosier firms for materials and supplies in 1955, a report released by Indiana Bell this week showed.

A breakdown disclosed that materials and supplies costing $20,095,000—an increase of almost $4 million over the previous year—were purchased from 973 suppliers in 44 Indiana counties.

The increased purchasing makes Indiana the ninth ranking state as the source of supplies for the Bell System.

The 85 towns and cities in which the purchases were made ranged alphabetically from Alexandria to Zionsville, and geographically from Michigan City in the north to Mount Vernon, Evansville and Jeffersonville on the Ohio River. The 22 cities in which the Bell System's "shopping bill" exceeded $50,000 were Attica, Brazil, Columbus, Crawfordsville, East Chicago, Elkhart, Fort Wayne, Gary, Goshen, Greencastle, Hammond, Indianapolis, Jasper, Marion, Michigan City, Mishawaka, Muncie, Terre Haute, Valparaiso and Whiting.

THE REPORT emphasized that expenditures during the year represented a substantial contribution to the economy of the state, which already is the telephone instrument manufacturing capital of the world, as all Bell System telephones are made at the Indianapolis Works of Western Electric. The Bell System's purchases are made by Western Electric on a competitive basis, in accordance with traditional high standards of quality.

Ruby Anderson

Last rites were held June 6 for Ruby Guy Anderson, shoe repairman for the Ohio Shoe Shop, in Willis Mortuary. Burial was in New Crown Cemetery.

Mr. Anderson, 27, died June 2 in Sunnyside Sanatorium. He was born in Hazen, Ark., and had lived here 14 years. He made his home at 641 Bright.

Survivors are his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Anderson, and four brothers, Willie, Louie, Gus and James Anderson, all of Indianapolis; a sister, Mrs. Juanita Jones, Detroit, and a son, Robert Anderson, Connorsville.

Mrs. Mercedes Piercey, San Francisco, has returned to her home after visiting an uncle at East St. Louis and Mrs. Inez J. Babb here for a week. Mrs. Piercey and Mrs. Babb visited relatives of the former in Detroit.

Win $48,000 On TV Quiz Show

HOLLYWOOD (ANP)—Los Angeles insurance man Steve Rowland and his wife last week stretched their winning to a total of $48,800 on "Do You Trust Your Wife?" the CBS Television show starring Edgar Bergen.

The Rowland couple won over an Air Force warrant officer, Larry Lambert, and his wife, who had gained the "finals" in the Trust Fund competition by winning $1,200 in a preliminary quiz on the show.

Dorothy Rowland, a former school teacher now active in PTA work, brought about the couple's eighth victory in the Trust Fund quiz when she defeated Warrant Officer Larry Lambert in a 10 part question dealing with national parks. Rowland "trusted his wife" Mrs. Lambert declined to take the question so her husband trusted himself to answer.

Mrs. Rowland correctly listed the states in which seven of the parks are situated, while Lambert had five correct answers.

Mrs. Rowland will return to the show next Tuesday night, June 5, to try for a ninth year of $100 a week—which is payable through a trust fund set up with the Bank of America by the sponsors of the show, Frigidaire, a division of General Motors.

Myrtle Williams

Funeral services were held June 6, for Miss Myrtle Williams, 428 N. West, in Stuart Mortuary. Burial was in New Crown Cemetery.

Miss Williams died June 2 in General Hospital. She was born here 56 years ago and had been a life-long resident of Indianapolis. Surviving is a brother, Herman Williams, Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Willis spent last Sunday in Dayton with their niece, Miss Luzetta Ross, formerly of New Albany, who will be married to George Wesley Wilson on June 16 at Dayton.

Returning, the Willis entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Allen, 2460 Sheldon street, who were to depart Friday for Annville, Mich., for permanent residence after living here for over 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen are members of Christ Temple and will be missed by their fellow-members.

Odie K. Herring

Funeral services for Mrs. Odie K. Herring, 2806 N. Keystone, were held June 6 in Shiloh Baptist Church, with burial in Crown Hill.

She died June 2 in General Hospital. Mrs. Herring was born in Christian County, 57 years ago, and had lived here 33 years.

Survivors are her husband, George Herring; a daughter, Mrs. Merle Anderson, Indianapolis; four sisters and three brothers.

Infant Fox

Funeral services for Infant Victor Keith Fox, age 2, 567 Ransom Dr., will be held June 10 at Ft. Benning, Columbus, Ga. Stuart Mortuary arranged the services.

Infant Fox died June 4 in U.S.A. Hospital, Ft. Benjamin Harrison. Born at Ft. Benning, Ga., he had lived here 18 months with his mother.

Survivors are the father, George G. Fox, stationed in Okinawa with the U. S. Army, and mother, Mrs. Minnie L. Fox, Indianapolis.

Chatting with the FAC
By ELSA JACKSON

FAC buses are ready to set forth for Cincinnati and the Brooklyn Dodgers-Cincinnati Reds baseball game, leaving promptly at 7 a.m. Sunday from the club home, 2309 North Capitol avenue. Since Jackie Robinson played his first game with the majors, the FAC has made the Sunday games each year. Many of those making the trip Sunday have never missed, and marked enthusiasm is being shown as usual. Mrs. Rebecca Smith is chairman of the social committee sponsoring the trip.

The educational committee has completed preparations for its annual breakfast-bridge to be held Saturday morning, June 16, at 9. Mesdames Fannie LaRue and Elizabeth Anderson will cook, and other members of the committee will serve. Games will start immediately following breakfast, and many beautiful and useful prizes await the winners. Mrs. Octavia Bigsbee Butler is committee chairman.

At 7 a.m. Sunday, the Gay Caballeros' buses to the Cincinnati game will leave from Senate avenue and Vermont streets. Club members and bus patrons alike are saying "hats off" to Hollis King, bus manager, for his untiring efforts in making the trip a most enjoyable one. Mose Smith, club president, says plans are in the making for the annual picnic and the annual formal.

The membership committee met Monday night and set plans in order for the October membership drive. June, July and August have been designated as special "group months." June will be devoted to doctors, with the committee contacting each doctor for his membership, new or renewal.

Ernest Ryan, committee chairman, made an appeal for diligence and cooperation in these special efforts.

The regular monthly meeting Monday will be a very important one, with much discussion expected over the failure of the present city administration to remember pre-election promises to appoint a Negro on a policy-making board, to set up a Mayor's Commission on Human Relations, and to make some worthwhile promotions in the Police Department.

The twelfth annual educational tour, this time to London, Ontario, Ottawa and Quebec, Canada; Boston, New York City, Washington and Cleveland, will leave the club home at midnight July 28 and return Sunday, August 12. Special permits have been granted for visiting the White House and other important places.

Among those making the trip Helen Jones and daughter, Rosemary Boyd, St. Louis; Mesdames Mary Hughley, Margaret Woodson, Mae Sutton, Garona Nealy, Ruth Owens, Mayme Young Dona Goodwin, Maggie Lytle, Wills Mae Roundtree and Anita Weathersby, Messrs. and Mesdames Shirley Harvey and S. W. James, Miss Sarah Hill and Schoenfeld Dyer. The president, Starling W.

Word has come to Mr. James from his sister, Mrs. Etta Mae Hendricks, that her husband, Gene Hendricks, died Saturday night at Kansas City, Kans. The body was to be shipped to Pittsburgh, Kans. for burial Friday.

Rev. Melvin Gorton, assistant pastor of Seventeenth Street Memorial Baptist Church, has consented to serve as chaplain for the FAC.

Mr. James will be quite busy this summer until time for the annual tour. He will be in charge of the summer school classes at School No. 4.

The Lotus club entertained with a sports dance in St. Rita's Hall May 23. The annual affair was enjoyed by a large crowd, even though the weather was very bad. Tables were beautifully decorated with gorgeous cut flowers.

On Tuesday, May 29, the Snakes crawled, formally, at the IBEW Hall. Decorations made the place a tropical garden, with beautiful flowers, palms, flamingoes, fish ponds, hanging imported baskets filled with luscious bananas and a monkey hanging from the greenery here and there.

Buddy Bryant and his orchestra played for the Lotus dance and the Snakes crawl.

Mrs. Mary Howard Martin has returned home after spending a week at Gary with a very dear friend, Miss Gladys Ingram, whose mother was buried on Thursday of last week. Miss Ingram is here now, spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Myles Martin.

Recorder writer who is also president of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, which sponsored the yard beautification program on the Eastside; Grace Williams, former PTA president; J. Wesley Hall, Attucks librarian interested in the Yard Parks program; and Eloise Proctor, elementary schools consultant, and Ted A. Moore, public schools art instructor, who were judges for the contest.

Also, of course, Mrs. B. Lynn Adams, Yard Parks executive director, and Mrs. Monica Rice of Chicago, sister of the school principal, Mrs. Rose H. Thompson. Gaillard Unit 107, American Legion Auxiliary, meeting last Friday, unanimously accepted the slate of officers presented by the nominating committee, composed of Mesdames Ernest Battles, chairman, Eric Suter and Denver Hinton.

Elected were Mesdames Shirley Gowdy, president; Claude Barthe, first vice-president; Hobart Crawford, second vice-president; Edward S. Gaillard, recording secretary; Eric Suter, corresponding secretary; Ernest Battles, treasurer; Troy Manlove, chaplain; Iva Dee Davis, historian; Edgar Dodson, sergeant-at-arms; and Leon Kennerly, parliamentarian.

The officers will be installed July 14 on the spacious grounds of Five Oaks, 5610 East 34th, where auxiliary and most members will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Crawford at a picnic.

Gaillard Unit, in conjunction with the Hayward Barcus Atkins Saw and Southeastern units, will sponsor a party Tuesday in the West Tenth Street Veterans' Administration Hospital.

Mesdames Suter and Manlove, chairmen of Poppy Day, reported successful results, with a large membership participation percentage. Named delegates to the state convention, to be held in August at the French Lick Sheraton Hotel, were Mesdames Adelaide Henderson, current president, and Shirley Gowdy. Mesdames Barthe and Davis were named alternates.

In the way of personal mention, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Hall motored to Lafayette last week to see the Metropolitan Opera Company production of Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" at the Purdue University Hall of Music.

Busy Bee Women
Enjoy Luncheon

Members of the Busy Bee Sewing Circle enjoyed a delicious six-course luncheon when Mrs. Leona Taylor, 2445 Highland place, a friend of the group, was hostess in the place of Mrs. Jewel Tomain, who is ill at home, but reported much improved.

Last week the circle was entertained by Mrs. Cora Smith at the home of Mrs. Freda Harris who assisted. Also assisting in entertaining the group was Mrs. Eva Leonard, whose friend, Mrs. Callie Johnson, was co-hostess.

Another recent meeting was held with Mrs. Lula Mitchell. Mrs. Rosella Thomas, a former member, was special guest at this week's meeting.

Mrs. Ernest R. Kirk and granddaughter, little Miss Lilli Reese Osili, went to North Carolina last week, to Durham to see the commencement exercises of North Carolina State College, in which a niece, Miss Delores Hawkins, participated, and to Sedalia to visit Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown.

Mrs. Rufus C. Kuykendall and father, Rial Ransom, and brother, Archie Ransom, left Wednesday for Toledo, called by the death of their aunt, Mrs. Pearl Legree.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jewell and daughter, Paula, have arrived from Princess Anne, Md., where he is an instructor at Maryland State College, to visit her sister, Miss Emma Mae Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Battles will leave Monday on a vacation trip which includes one week in St. Louis visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Falwell, and son, Laurence; ten days possibly in St. Paul and Minneapolis at the Hotel Lowry while the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod convenes, and possibly another week in Chicago en route home.

Mrs. Battles is already excited over the modern Zephyr Rocket and Vista Dome trains which they will explore.

Bobby Slaughter
Feted on Birthday

Robert Slaughter, Jr., was feted with a party honoring his ninth birthday last Sunday afternoon by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slaughter, 3239 Martindale avenue.

Various games were enjoyed, and the guests were served homemade ice cream and cake. Each child was given a favor as he left.

Enjoying the party were Yolanda Bishop, Pamela Maxey, Janice and Bonita Blair, Kathy Harding, Diana and Delores Jones, Johnny and Billy Maxey, Eddie Stiles, Thomas Dallen, Stephen Evans, Philip, Patricia and Michael Slaughter and Norman Evans.

Mrs. Mary Debow, R.R. 1, Shanghai Road, New Augusta, is confined to her home.

Messrs. and Mesdames Banks Hainabson and Cornelius Clark, Evansville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace Priestly over the Memorial Day weekend at the home of Mrs. Lucille Bullock.

Down HOPKINSVILLE Way

By MILDRED L. IRVIN

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky.—Fifty students were given diplomas last Friday night at the Attucks high school commencement program. Dr. Charles E. Rochelle, principal of Lincoln high school, Evansville, was speaker for the occasion. Ina Vellev Dabney was valedictorian, and Cynthia Mar'e Palmer was salutatorian.

Listed as honor students were Juanita Crump, LaVerne Currie, Esther Jane Fleming, Barbara Jean Glass, Shirley Mae Lisenby, Frances M. McGowan, Samuel Morehead, Betty Jean Parker, Paul Edward Stratt and Frances Odella Swafford.

J. H. Bronaugh is school principal. Miss Charity Shipp and nephew, Clinton Frank Shipp Jr., attended the birthday party of her niece, Sandra Mae Clark, held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Griffin, Evansville.

Sandra Mae is the daughter of Henry Clark and the late Mrs. Ora Lee Shipp Clark.

Men's Day at Virginia Street Baptist Church began last Sunday morning with breakfast at 7:30 and served a large group of men of the community.

Rev. W. L. Gaither was guest speaker at the morning service, and Ernest Wilson, organizer of the Laymen's League of the State of Kentucky, was guest speaker at the evening service. Music was furnished by the men's chorus.

Rev. A. R. Lasley is host pastor. After games, ice cream and cake were served to Mary E. Watkins, Frank E. McWilliams, Jr., Jeanette, William L. and Velma Freen and Lawrence and Robert Lee Barker.

Charles Henry received many useful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Taylor and daughter, Evansville, were re-day guests of Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Bell and Lawson Taylor and other relatives.

MRS. LEE ANNA CARR and her husband, Charles Hill, have returned to Indianapolis after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bell.

The funeral of John William Samuels was held Saturday at Lane Tabernacle CME Church, officiating. The Adams Funeral Home was in charge of burial in Cave Spring cemetery. Mr. Samuels died May 31 after a week's illness.

Survivors include the mother, Mrs. Ella Samuels; five sisters, Mrs. Albert Wilson, Louisville; Mesdames Annie E. Miss Arnett has made the dean's list at the college eight times, and Miss Harris has been on the list once. Miss Arnett won a $100 scholarship from the chapter, and Miss Harris won a $50 scholarship at the recent "Debutante Ball" held at the McCurdy Hotel.

EVANSVILLE — Zeta Zeta Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority held its regular monthly meeting last Saturday with Miss Wynne Echols, 711 John, as hostess. Miss Lillian Syler conducted installation of officers.

Installed for the year were Mrs. Alberta Stevenson, basileus; Miss Joyce Watson, grammateus; Mrs. Mattie Miller, anti-grammateus; Mrs. Jacqueline Neal, tamiochus; Miss E. Carolyn Wilson, chaplain, and Miss Willie Effie Thomas, retiring as basileus, parliamentary, Ivy Leaf reporter and public relations director.

The youth department and adult committee of Carver Center are making plans for a "Cherry Blossom Ball" to be given next Wednesday night honoring graduating seniors and returning collegians. The ball will be informal, and a local band will play.

"ACHIEVEMENT DAY" was observed at the Chestnut-Walnut school on Thursday of last week, with oral recognition given to pupils on the "A" and "B" honor rolls, citizenship awards presented by Mrs. R. Richardson, attendance awards by Mrs. Jacqueline Neal, and school helpers honored by Miss Vera Morpin.

Alfred Wiley, principal, made remarks.

"Third-grade" pupils of the school enjoyed a picnic Friday at Carver Center. Outdoor activities were enjoyed, and two movies were shown. Their teachers are Mrs. Mary Ella Hart and the Misses Althouse Jaxon and W. E. Thomas.

Separation services for fifth-grade pupils were held Friday night. A highlight of the program was a symposium on "Priceless Gifts to an American Citizen," with Judy Johnson, Evangelar Williams, Raphael Howard, David McKnight, Darnell Dawson and Linda Harper as speakers.

The principal speaker, James Thompkins, principal of the Third Avenue school, was introduced by the Chestnut-Walnut principal, Alfred Wiley.

Other students taking special roles were Paulette Fore, who gave the opening prayer; Darlene Malone and Lawrence Chisler, key ceremony, and Augusta Flowers, who presented the class gift.

Fifth-grade sponsors are Anna McCauley, Jesse Ingram and Julia Ingram. Mrs. Ada Chester served as substitute teacher during the past week in the absence of Miss Julia Ingram.

MUSIC ON LAST Sunday morning's broadcast of the NAACP Youth Council was dedicated to graduates of the various schools and colleges of the city and vicinity. Listeners were reminded that NAACP memberships should be enlisted before June 19.

A "King and Queen of the Youth Council" will be crowned at the closing program, to be held on Tuesday night, June 19, at the Carver Center. A prize will be given to the singing group receiving the greatest amount of applause.

Mrs. Clara George is serving as chairman of the program.

The Blair Gospel Singers rendered a program Sunday night at the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Ruby Glover was sponsor of the program.

Hollis King, Kokomo NAACP president, and Edward Ray attended a special NAACP conference held May 27 at South Bend.

Graduation Time

Probably nothing is so contradictory in terms of description as graduation. It is at once joyous and sad, festive and solemn, a beginning and an end. Thousands of youngsters have been enjoying "class night," dances, dinners, parties, baccalaureate services and finally the commencement program itself. They have heard anywhere from one to five speakers, giving various degrees and types of advice.

Many of the speakers stress that these are terrible, dire times, full of traps for the unwary. We are threatened by total destruction, the moral fibre is rapidly disintegrating, and it's just a hard, cruel world in general. Poor graduates! By the time they are through being threatened, they wish they could stay within the ivy wall forever, protected from this universe they can neither understand nor affect.

Other speakers will emphasize the importance of "getting along." Incredible though it may seem, there are commencement speakers who will advise graduates to hurry and get in step, hasten to be part of the wretched machinery which is already turning out by the thousands the mass mind. Specialize in one thing, say these speakers, and leave all else out of your mind. There is nothing so important as determining which little part of the machine you are. So many technological schools, in particular, do this kind of speaker.

All but vanished are speakers who were at one time in the majority. They emphasized the commencement angle. Sometimes with just a touch of sadness, more often relishing vicariously the challenge, they reminded graduates that they were embarking upon the sea of life. The course they would charter would be their own; they were the pilots, the captains of their ships. Life in its myriad circumstances, its many opportunities and drawbacks is an exciting adventure, and you young graduates are just starting it, equipped with a book education. Your real education is just getting started.

We rather fancy this latter type. While this is admittedly a technological age, it is not an anti-human one. Man is still complex enough to be an effective part of a living machine and yet an individual, living life and enjoying its beauties, joys and challenges. All that "comes" to man does not come from outside him; that is, from the physical world around him. The graduate equipped with a brilliant technical background and with an exclusive material skill to offer may get the job first. The graduate who has added to that, perspective, spiritual well-being and appreciation of life as a mystery will be more valuable to humanity.

Georgia Methodists Are Honest Sinners

The Methodist Church at Wraithsville, Ga., has condemned the policy of racial integration enacted by the Methodist Quadrennial Conference in Minneapolis last month—condemned it so resoundingly, in fact, that the congregation has threatened to withdraw from the conference if "the present pattern continues." Referred to is the progressive statement taken by the governing body of the denomination in adopting a constitutional amendment providing that a Negro church may transfer from the Negro jurisdiction to the white one if the change is approved by a two-thirds vote of all concerned.

Even with all the furore currently attendant upon the racial question in the South, it may be a little surprising to some that a church body would so flagrantly condemn a move which every person with any sense of Christian morality knows is right. There's nothing so surprising about the Georgia Methodists, however. Any priest, minister, provided he isn't guilty of the same thing will tell you that "Christians" will put practically anything above their practice of religion, that most people who call themselves Christians say there's a limit. When it comes to encroaching upon their most-prized most-easily-disguised sins, whether lack of charity for other sinners, stinginess in church giving or lack of Christian stewardship.

In fact, the Wraithsville people have probably pseudo persuaded themselves that they are justified, pure-at-heart Christians. In spite of official action by their own denomination, in spite of the "me too" action of Presbyterians last week in calling for an end to segregation, in spite of the feelers being put out by most of the denominations, our heroes and heroines no doubt feel justified. And just think of how they can lord it over the others in the world to come: during each cool-off spell they can pant, "At least, we were honest!"

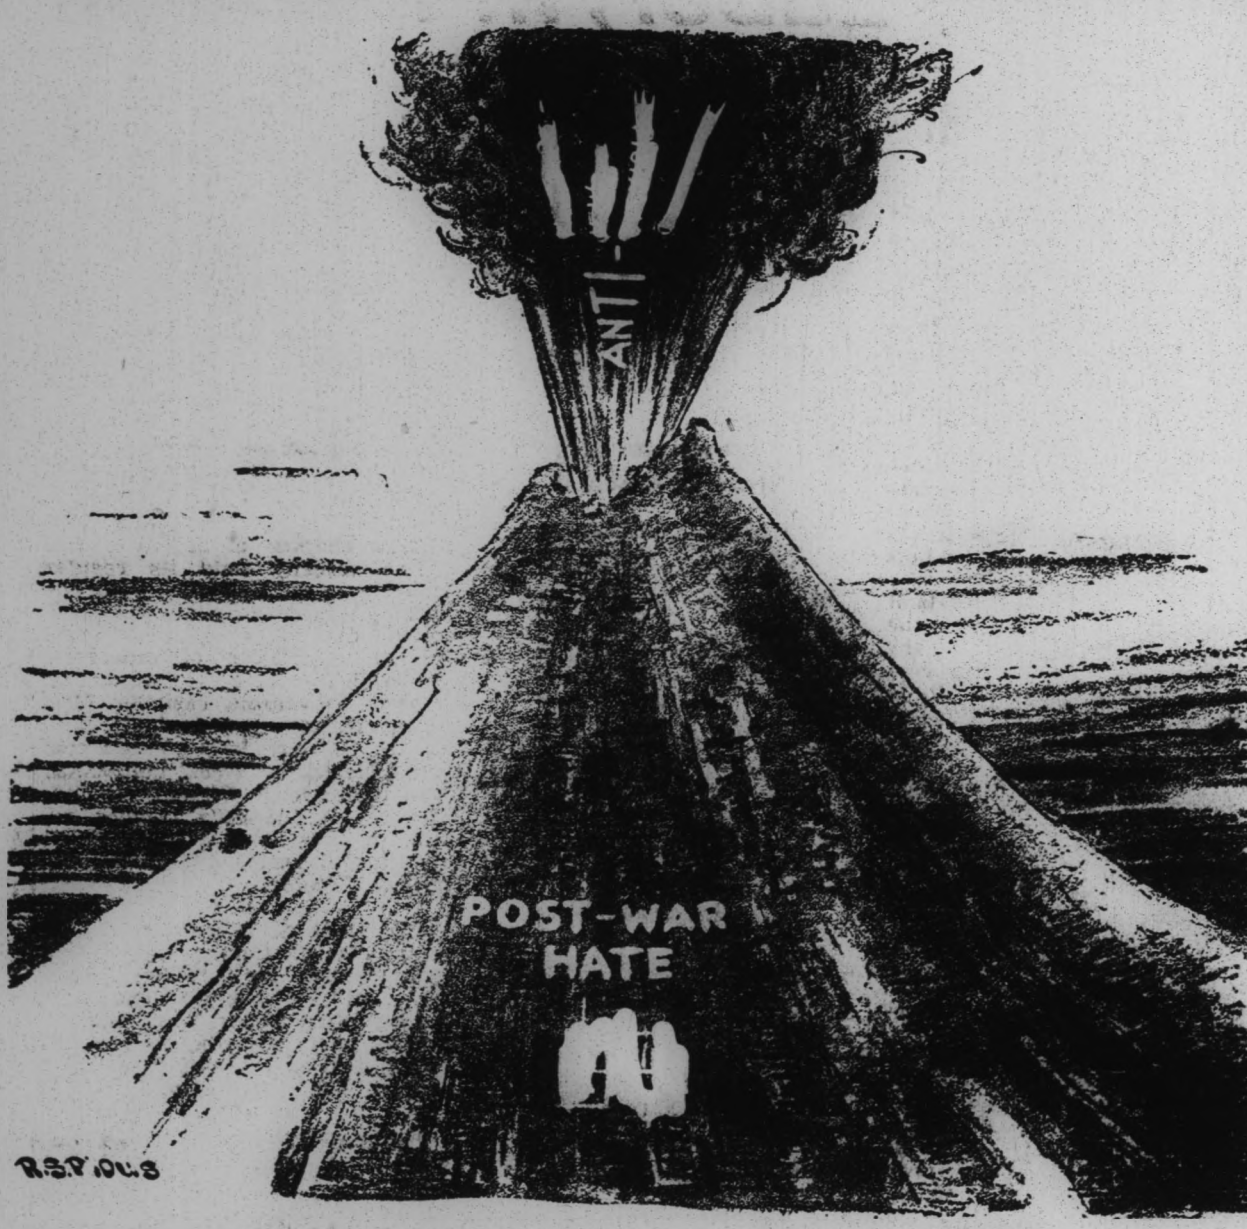

UAW 20 Years Old

The United Auto Workers Union is celebrating its 20th anniversary this week. Individual locals are likely having special programs or public information on features pointing out the aims and accomplishments of the union during its first two decades. Two items have already come to notice—Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, was to throw off the first ball at the Yankee-Tiger doubleheader in New York, and at Notre Dame University a banquet was to be held commemorating the founding convention of the union on April 27, 1936, at South Bend.

Those aims and accomplishments have been, it might be argued primarily selfish ones and with that there would be no argument from us. We would merely answer that those aims and accomplishments have also reflected sound economic principles and have had potent social implications. The union, for instance, has insisted upon good working conditions and has emphasized that only a bigger share of employee earnings can assure consumer buying sufficient for permanent prosperity. Facing the problems attached to automation and seeking year-round work, the union shows an understanding of economics which would only be argued with by those employers who believe it is the natural state of affairs for rich to get richer and the poor poorer.

President Reuther may or may not be an integrationist at heart. He and other top UAW leaders may simply be shrewd enough to see that unequal working standards and conditions for the Negro hurt the white man. Regardless of their reason for seeking and getting integration on the job, the fact of that integration remains. Probably there are thousands of men, white and colored, all over the country who have lost their prejudices and suspiciousness of each other through having been forced to work side-by-side with each other. Even if those individuals never become vocal integrationists they are certainly not likely to be rabid segregationists, either.

In 20 years the United Auto Workers have proved the force labor in bringing about social and economic change. Even more important, possibly, is the cultural change brought about by the new respectability of labor. Conscious now of labor as a necessary, intelligent part of the over-all picture, laborers nowadays are proud of playing their part well. In the long labor-management fight, it is neither expectable nor right that labor should always win. So long as the pendulum is kept in motion, the instrument is working.

Television Sidesteps Democracy

"Did you see a Negro on television last night?" That was the heading of a handbill passed out in New York recently to announce an NAACP mass meeting to protest the treatment of the American Negro by our newest medium of mass communication.

The ten thousand people in attendance at the mass meeting heard expert analyses of the treatment which Negroes get from T. V., as well as the effects and implications of such treatment.

It is a well known fact that rarely do we see Negroes pictured on the T. V. screen and when we do they are cast in pejorative and damaging roles like the Amos and Andy Show, the Beulah Show or the Little Rascals.

Rarely do we see Negroes in any role on television unless it is one perpetuating one of the familiar stereotypes which have played such a major role in relegating Negroes to the status of second class citizens.

It could hardly be accidental that no T. V. network and no major advertiser has seen fit to produce a program in which Negroes are treated like other Americans.

THE FACT that most programs on television are sponsored by the manufacturers and purveyors of products bought by most Americans renders it strange that we never see a Negro pictured in the commercials using any of these products.

The makers of fine automobiles have not even served the stereotype ideology by picturing the liveried Negro chauffeur.

If all that we knew of America was what we see on television we might well get the idea that American Negroes do not own or drive automobiles. The same thing goes for beer, cigarettes, potato chips, soaps and cosmetics.

In plays Negroes are not shown even in crowd scenes representing large cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit where Negroes live by the hundreds of thousands.

We might pass this treatment up lightly if T. V. were only a toy designed for the amusement of a few select individuals, but television is much more than a toy or a type of amusement.

FOR MILLIONS of Americans it represents their major source of education and information and it provides them with a major share of their entertainment. It is demonstrable that T. V. has a profound influence upon American tastes in housing, food, clothes and conveniences.

Lexicographers attribute to television, the radio and the movies a growing uniformity in the language usage of Americans and the gradual disappearance of regional speech peculiarities.

The anti-saloon league partisans constantly protest the vast amount of beer commercials and the drinking scenes in so many T. V. plays on the ground that Americans tend to become less moderate when subjected to so much alcoholic suggestion.

Parents and experts on juvenile delinquency are concerned about crime on television, claiming that such depiction has a part in the increase of juvenile delinquency.

All of these objections stem from the idea that people learn from television whether or not the program is designed for instruction or for simple amusement.

The fact that no Negro is ever cast in the role of a physician, teacher, lawyer (except in buffoonery as in the Amos and Andy Show) or ist, engineer, politician, banker, insurance man, business executive (except for laughs as in Amos and Andy Show) or consumer of the vast number of products advertised while he is pictured as a menial, a clown, or an ignoramus (a la Jack Benny Show) leads many Americans to conclude that Negroes participate in American life only in the lower and humbler echelons and that we are a child-race not ready for treatment as normal human beings.

AN EMPLOYER who has been treated to that picture of the Negro by the newspapers, magazines, the radio, the movies and now television can hardly be brought to see that he should give Negroes jobs above the most menial.

The operators of places of public accommodation feel justified in their bias against serving Negroes when all of the media of mass communication relegate the Negro to the status of a second class citizen or fail to treat him at all.

The average white home owner, whose knowledge of the Negro has been gained from these sources feels that he must sell out and flee whenever a Negro moves into his neighborhood.

A white truck driver feels that his dignity has been outraged when a Negro owner of a trucking concern moves into his neighborhood and a white hospital orderly feels impelled to move when a Negro surgeon moves next door.

The average American needs education on the subject of the Negro but he is unable to get it from the same sources from which he gets most of his other education.

IT IS TRUE that there are books on the subject and there is the Negro press which is doing a tremendous job in the area, but the average American never reads a book on a serious question and almost never sees a Negro newspaper. In fact most Americans are ignorant of the existence of a Negro press.

As T. V. has assumed the role of the major source of adult education and a considerable one in the education of the young, it is doing a great disservice to interracial harmony and goodwill by its present policy in regard to treatment of the Negro.

A barrage of cards and letters to the national T. V. networks, local stations and national and local advertisers protesting the present treatment of Negroes on this modern medium of communication might help.

A SIGNIFICANT CHANGE in the present policy would help not only the Negro but would do much toward advancing the cause of democracy in our land where our actions have yet to match our words.

Careers In Chemistry

During the last few years much has been written and said about the growing need for and shortage of American scientists in general.

This discussion, however, deals only with opportunities for careers in chemistry.

Such opportunities presently are said to be almost without limit and are apt to remain so for many years to come.

Quite a number of Negro chemists have found work in recent years and in all probability all colored persons who become competent chemists can find it easier than ever before to get employment because of the rapid development of the chemical industry.

FEW SUBJECTS of learning attract and hold a student's attention as the study of chemistry does. I knew a university student who became so absorbed in chemistry that he wished to give all his time and effort to it.

Lack of money for the purpose was all that kept him from having a chemical laboratory in his home.

Colleges and universities are not graduating enough chemists and other scientists to meet the needs of industry—a fact that gives little encouragement to secondary pupils who are thinking of future careers.

The deficiency is not in any one kind of chemistry but applies to all fields of the science. For example, large pharmaceutical concerns require the services of all kinds of chemists for making products for public consumption.

An important cause of the current shortage of chemists is the great increase in the number of chemical products. Eighteen years ago there were 9,522 chemicals and related products. Twelve years later there were 32,573—more than three times the number than in 1938. PRESENT INDICATIONS are that in the next ten years the chemical industry will increase three times faster than all industry will average and by 1975 it is expected to be four times what it was in 1950.

The number of pounds of plastics alone increased from 5,944,000 pounds in 1932 to 2,849,000,000 in 1955. In World War II the multibillion dollar chemical plant expansion started an increase, which still is going on at an unprecedented rate.

Before choosing a life career a young person should gain a general knowledge of occupations and study the requirements of a chosen vocation carefully. He also should learn about his own abilities with a view to knowing whether or not he is fitted for the work he wants to do.

AS REGARDS CHEMISTRY he not only must have the proper qualifications but must want to be a chemist and feel that he will wish no other occupational activity.

He should be naturally curious to know what causes things to happen and whether or not chemical work will challenge him to try to learn about problems of which he knows nothing.

If he enjoyed studying science and mathematics in high school he probably will be a successful chemist unless he is burdened with personal traits that will hold him back in any occupation.

Chemistry, while difficult enough at first by no means is the hardest subject to master. Success at it does not require one to be a genius. Many scientists have only ordinary mental capacity. But the ability, mental and physical to work hard is necessary.

STUDENTS OF CHEMISTRY MUST work harder than those of many other subjects and the closest application is needed on the job.

In regard to pay, the more chemical training one has the more compensation he will enjoy. At present one having only an A. B. degree is apt to start at from $275 to $350 a month while the possessor of a master's degree can start at from $350 to $450 a month.

One who has spent seven years earning the doctorate may be offered from $525 to $650 monthly at the beginning.

Nearly all of the most important chemical researchers have doctor's degree.

"Some People" Say --In Our Town

By W. ALEXANDER CHAMBERS

Dr. Henry G. Nester, recently issued a warning against children playing in waters standing in gutters, streets or elsewhere in some sections of the city following the recent flood. Dr. Nester is the city county health director. He noted that waters still standing in some areas of the city, including in some instances the overflow from sewers, might be highly contaminated.

Dr. Nester stated that waters from recently overflowed sewers might contain various disease germs including diphtheria, typhoid and polio. These may be picked up readily by children playing in waters in gutters, streets, or elsewhere in the overflow from sewers.

This is sane, practical advice that parents or adults might pass along to all children. It is very important in all areas where underprivileged children play in the streets, gutters or on unsightly commons because of little chance or choice otherwise to play. However, wherever there is water children will play and disease is void of respect for persons.—In hep cat vernacular, "It is a good idea to keep the kiddies out of the dirty waters of the gutters, streets and commons or dumps across the way."

Sen. Wayne B. Morse of Oregon spoke in the city very recently. In some quarters he has been styled "the crusading rugged individualist out of the Northwest." Sen. Morse ventured that Russia is beating our country in producing "brain power" because U. S. schools have low standards.

He urged federal aid to schools, saying that those who charge it is socialist are foolish. He urged federal aid to schools as a way or means to preserve our way of life or the capitalistic order. He said Russia is training children from the first grade through college level in schools that present the entire curriculum in the language of the country to which they will "export" them.—We propose that our nation has "a singular engagement with destiny" and we may not meet the challenge unless the total of spiritual and ideal values in our land is saved or developed.

Edwin K. Steers, Indiana Attorney General, recently observed that the 1943 law permitting public school pupils to take time off for special religious instruction is "constitutional in its entirety." Mr. Steers released an official opinion in keeping with request from Wilbur Young, Mr. Young is Superintendent of Public Instruction. According to the opinion the teaching of special Bible classes in schools is legal in Indiana.

Mr. Young is reported as asking for the opinion because of requests he received for information growing out of a U. S. Supreme Court opinion on a New York state law. The New York law has to do with special religious instruction in public schools.—There are several schools of thought on this precarious subject—but no place has it been concluded seemingly that religious training in public schools will enhance "brain power" or detract from its production.

Gov. George N. Craig according to very recent reports observed that there is no legal way for the state Finance Board or state officials to invest public funds without permissive legislation. (The city of Indianapolis recently found a way to invest John funds, on which a handsome profit will be realized.)

Gov. Craig urged some form of permissive legislation two years ago but the General Assembly failed to pass the bill. A bill was introduced in the 1955 General Assembly requiring that at least $40 million be invested. The bill was defeated. In this instance involving a reported "safe surplus" in the opinion of some state officials.

Otherwise, in some quarters it is reported that more than $100 million of state money in banks throughout the state is earning no money for the state. Under the custody of State Treasurer John Petersen it is said the state has $186 million in banks of the state. Seemingly less than $80 million is subject to traffic similar to an individual's or business firm's checking account. This would mean that around $106 or $107 million remains untouched for many months of the year.—Generally it is agreed that the state of Indiana could make a "little money" $2 or $3 million a year with a "little enabling legislation."

Troy Totty, a local leader of the UAW-CIO, very recently expressed some disturbance over the present trend of Democrats toward 1958. Mr. Totty has been chairman of the UAW citizenship council, composed of 11 Unions, longer than five years.

He is reported as observing that "up until 1929 there was no difference between the Democrats and Republicans except the question of high and low tariffs. He noted changes beginning in the 1930's and the following years in which labor made its greatest progress."

Mr. Totty observed that he is fighting "for labor to stop separating Democrats from Republicans in its ranks and to register and vote its entire membership." He stated, he would not take a partisan (Democrat) stand in the coming election, and wants to see the records of candidates of both parties.—It was "the late Al Smith of New York" who always said, "let's look at the record,"—(?)

Edwin K. Steers, Indiana Attorney General, recently issued a statement against the proposal to eliminate his office from the list of elective offices in the state. He was joined in the statement by Wilbur Young, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Mr. Young's office also figures in the proposal.

The two state officials venture that the plan would concentrate "too much power" in the hand of the governor of the state. The proposal seemingly originated with Robert Heller & Associates, Cleveland, a state hired consulting firm and efficiency promotion organization.

Mr. Young said he believed an appointed school head "would result in more politics in the schools rather than less."

Among other things, Mr. Steers observed that "the present system has been a complete success. It is respected by the courts, attorneys and elected officials."

Little League Players Open On Douglas Park Diamond

The Douglas Park Little League opened its third season last Saturday afternoon with a colorful program which featured the abbreviated play of an honorary team made up of business people and social and recreation workers.

Members of the honorary team were Graham Martin, Attucks baseball coach; A. J. Thatcher, Superintendent of the Park Board; Grant Hawkins, member of the School Board; Don Anderson, director of PAL Club; Rufus C. Kuykendall, former City Attorney; J. R. Townsend, Park Department.

Ed "Bud" Harris, father of the Indianapolis Little League; Will Kirk, ward chairman, and Basil Raymond, director of juvenile parole.

Jim Cummings, Recorder Sports Editor, was umpire and caused the first ruckus of the Douglas Little League season when he ruled Larry Dunville safe on a slof roller toward Kuykendall's first base position.

Kuykendall had left the position when the ball started in that direction and pitcher Graham Martin fielded the ball and made the play it first.

DUNVILLE IS PRESIDENT of the League, Derwood B. Abernathy is vice president, Miss Elsie Clark is secretary, and Charles Cantrell is treasurer.

The Little League is made up of four major league and four minor league teams, all boys ranging in age from 8 to 12 years. Major league teams are the Giants, Yankees, Dodgers and Indians, with manager Leonard Lewis, DeeBee Martin, Leo Floyd and Rocco Spears, respectively. William Hatcher, Albert Umphrey, M. E. Rush and Willie Gibson manage the Pelicans, Braves, Red Birds and All-Stars in the "minors."

Tiney Baldwin, Jesse Quarles, James Williams and George Hawkins coach the boys.

The Douglas league covers an area which includes 15,000 residents. Each team has 15 members who are selected on a point system, determined by the boys' participation in a baseball clinic held a month ago, and Spring practice.

PLAY INCLUDES AN 18-GAME schedule for each team. Games

Bill Bruton Fined $50 For Meyer Battle

MILWAUKEE — Billy Bruton, Milwaukee Braves, on Friday of last week was notified that he had been fined $50 for his fight with Russ Meyer, Chicago Cubs pitcher, Memorial Day.

The fracas occurred in the first inning of the first game of a holiday double-header at Chicago.

Meyer hit the Braves center-fielder with a pitched ball and Bruton started for first. However, he changed his course about midway and headed for the mound.

Milwaukee manager Charlie Grimm tried to head off the fracas and all three men wound up on the ground. Bruton and Meyer were thumbed out of the game. They later shook hands and said all was forgotten.

J. C. Segraves, All-Time Star, Dies In Hospital

By TINEY BALDWIN
Last year we mentioned that baseball is not the same here in Indianapolis, as far as our boys are concerned, as it was years before, despite the fact that boys coming along today have good chances of making top money in the major leagues.

We also mentioned stories we would talk about from the late Jim Taylor, former 3rd baseman of the late C. I. Taylor's A. B. C. and manager of the great St. Louis Stars team.

Also we're going to talk about William "Dizzy" Dismuke, the under-handed pitcher for the champion A.B.C. team. And generally we'll be on the ball to bring you views on many different things that used to be that don't happen anymore.

We were all set to start this column about three weeks ago but a great tragedy befell the local baseball world in the death of J. C. Segraves and your columnist just couldn't get together as a result.

J. C. was one of the greatest lead hitters ever to come off the Naptown sand lots. During last year's balloting in our all-time all-star team, his name appeared on practically every team submitted. He was a great competitor who didn't believe in doing things half way. If he was involved, it had to be done right or not at all. He was as sincere in his practice of religion as he was in the diamond sport. A great Christian, he died in Methodist hospital.

THE LITTLE LEAGUE ball teams are practicing at Douglass Park every Saturday at 10:30. Boys, ages 9 to 12, are welcome. Instructors are needed and everyone is welcome to come out.

WELCOME NEW ST. RITA COACH: Rev. Bernard Strange, pastor of St. Rita's Catholic Church, extends a hand of welcome to the Jack Durham, new boxing coach at the St. Rita Recreation Center. Cleo Horton (next to Father Strange), captain of the St. Rita Boxing Team, welcomes Ralph Saxton, a new member, to the club. Durham at one time was a Golden Gloves champ and later coached Eastside teams. Saxton was Golden Gloves Champ several years ago.

SUGAR RAY ROBINSON SETTING 'SELF STRAIGHT WITH "UNCLE"

NEW YORK — Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson this week was reported as having made a deal with Uncle Sam on the payment of back income taxes. Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said Sugar has agreed to pay his debt to the government by the end of the year.

Gibson, who was present when Robinson met with government officials, said the middleweight champ paid Uncle Sam a substantial part of his $90,708 purse for knocking out Bobo Olson May 18, and said he will make up the difference later on.

Bratton, Mentally Ill, On Lonesome Road

A skeptic's advice to professional boxers—"get what you can and get out before your brains get scrambled"—seemed more timely than ever this week as Johnny Bratton, former welterweight champ, entered an institution for the mentally ill.

The 29-year-old "Golden Boy of Chicago" last week was ruled mentally incompetent in Cook County Psychopathic Court at Chicago and Judge Watler J. Stevens ordered him committed to the state mental hospital at Manteno, Ill.

"I hope they can help me," was Bratton's only remark after the sanity hearing. Bratton, a handsome picture boxer with dazzling speed and finesse who in 1951 was recognized by the NBA as world welterweight champ, at one time walked the crowded highway of the prosperous.

He reportedly earned nearly a half-million dollars in purses in his hey day.

Last week when he turned up the long, narrow lonesome road of the ill and poor, Bratton was said to be penniless. During an unsuccessful campaign in the East recently, one of his purses was held up for what was described as a poor showing against the current welter champ Johnny Saxton.

However, nearly a decade ago, the classy Windy City boxer gave every indication that some day he would be a ring great. He also

Brown Bomber To Quit Wrestling —For Awhile Anyway

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—Former World Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, who has been touring the country as a professional wrestler, said here Saturday night that he is going to take a vacation from his new trade.

Joe said he will quit for awhile and try to get himself straightened out with Uncle Sam, who says Joe owes nearly two million dollars in back taxes.

Louis made the announcement after winning here over Cowboy Don Lee, with whom he is touring. "I am going to quit for at least a month. I don't know, maybe longer," the Brown Bomber stated. "I've got to do something about that government business and get it settled."

The government claims Joe owes about $1,800,000 in back taxes. He was guaranteed $500 for his match here plus a percentage of the gate. "I can't do anything with that hanging over me," Louis said.

2nd-Place Tribe Doubles Bears Home thru Sun.

Fans and stockholders of our Indianapolis Indians had much to shout about Tuesday night as the home team moved solidly into second place in the American Association with two wins over league-leading Denver.

Before the biggest Victory Field crowd of the season—4,377—the Indians blasted Denver's hold on them and won 3-2 and 4-2. The Bears had beaten the Indians all five previous times the teams had met.

The first game, scheduled for seven innings, was won in the 11th on a two-out triple by Bobby Young. Ted Beard brought the second game into the Indians' win column with an eighth-inning homer.

LARRY RAINES picked up three hits and Dave Pope, one in the nightcap. The victories put Indianapolis just 5½ games out of first place and established the team as just about the hottest team in the league. They have won 16 of their last 21 games.

The Tribe will start on a road trip Monday and will not return to Victory Field until June 18.

THE TEAM OPENED a six-game stand with Omaha Thursday night with a double-header. Single games were to be played Friday and Saturday with a double-header on Sunday afternoon.

Youngsters 14 and under will be admitted free Saturday.

Catcher Earl Averill recently was returned to Cleveland. This was a disappointment to Indian fans but was no surprise to team officials. He was optioned here on 24-hour recall.

Johnny Saxton Bats Way Into New York Jail

NEW YORK — Welterweight Champion Johnny Saxton landed in jail Saturday when he engaged in a non-paying bout with two men near his home and used a baseball bat instead of boxing gloves.

The 25-year-old boxer, who won his title last March against Carmen Basilio, was booked for felonious assault and released under $1,000 bond.

His opponents, Samuel Wyatt, 34, and Wade Vance, 29, who wielded tire irons during the fray, were arrested under identical charges and released under the same bond.

Exhibiting cuts and bruises, Saxton said the battle raged early Saturday morning when he left his home in his car to do road work in the country. He said he found the street blocked by Wyatt's car.

Saxton claimed the two men refused to move the car.

Police say the young fighter got out of his car with a baseball bat and banged the men on the shins with the weapon after they got out of their car.

The two men began swinging the tire irons, police said, and Saxton ran off, leaving his car behind.

The Welter King called police and put the blame on the two men as the men almost simultaneously were calling headquarters and blaming Saxton.

Naptown baseball fans will be served an outstanding bill of fare next Friday night, June 15, when three outstanding teams participate in a double header.

The powerful Kansas City Monarchs will meet the rapidly-rising young Detroit Stars.

Indianapolis' own All-Stars, a group composed completely of local ball players, will meet the winner of the first game in the night cap.

Kansas City, a power in the Negro American League, in recent years has developed as a proving ground for future major league stars and consequently attracts large crowds wherever they appear.

Every year the Monarchs come up with a load of good talent and by the end of the season major clubs have signed a number from the Kansas City roster.

Detroit is a young, but powerful team. The Stars appeared here several times last season and always impressed the crowds.

The Indianapolis All-Stars were organized in May, 1949 by Thomas Zakary and Oliver Harrison, who currently is president of the group behind the team. Louis Cumberland is vice president.

Throughout the first years the team limited its activity to the semi-pro ranks and gradually worked the schedule and membership to a professional level. Today the team is affiliated with the Negro American League.

HERMAN WATTS, who played with the Indianapolis Clowns for several years, is the manager and leading pitcher.

Chet Jones, a good left hander who refused contracts offered by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox while at Indiana University, is another member of the pitching staff.

JUMPING JOHNNY WILSON, of Anderson and Harlem Globetrotters basketball fame, will be in centerfield. He formerly played with the Chicago American Giants.

Other members are Ned Duncan, G. Smith, Raymond Lockett, Robert Lawson, Benny Cook, Charles Moore, Clarence Hibbitt, James Howard, Jeff Duncan and Danny Lathan.

JUST SHAGGING A FEW FLIES . . . (About Former Greats) . . . And putting one little word after another, whatever happened to the baseball greats of yesterday? . . . ? Were they as good as the guys today? Could they have made the big show like Robinson, Mays, Smith? How many persons today remember or would recognize them? . . . Our little debating society which regularly devotes itself to matters of world-shaking importance divided on some of these questions in our last solemn session—but being a chap whose head has no more water in it than is biologically necessary, I decided that the public should have another look at these guys who did so much to keep the game alive all around the country, who contributed so much color and excitement, who passed along the love and knowledge of baseball to us and who fought mightily with us in opening the majors. Those guys never let up during the years . . . and did much to make the way for the stars of today. . . . Many persons don't know this, but it's time somebody said as much, and I am the shy little citizen to mumble it. So there it is.

WITH THE SUPPORT of Jasper Bright and Jewell 'Bus' Jordan I "conferred" with Wes Jackson, sports promoter supreme, and he "agreed"—(his arm still is in a sling) to give An Old Times night for his next game at Victory Field Friday night, June 29, featuring Birmingham and Memphis is another great baseball show. . . . Remember these boys? We've contacted some of them and they have pledged to appear, here they are: Lane Butler, Cuba Younger, Lee Bess, Elzy McReynolds, Shaddy Charleston, Dippy Miller, Sonny Ross, Tiny Baldwin. . . . Also Lefty Drew, Racket Williams, George Gill, Roy Bright, Robert Sibley, Bob Matthews, Connie Day, Warner Jewell, George Shively, Leroy Brown, Al Williams and Henry Fleming. There are others and we want you to see them on the field Friday night, June 29 at the big game. (by W. C. H.)

We are compelled to pay a high cost of rent and all our utilities which servicemen shouldn't have to bear. The service is losing men every day because the pay is too small for the expenses the men have to undergo. The Week In Records

By ALBERT ANDERSON for ANP

'MR. WONDERFUL ON WAX

Judging by reports of newspaper critics who reviewed the opening night performance of "Mr. Wonderful," the Broadway musical starring Sammy Davis, Jr., wasn't worthwhile seeing. But they were radically wrong. In fact, because of the packed houses each night since its opening more than a month ago, the show's producers are presiding confidentially that it will stay on New York's main stem for a whole year.

Decca Records, a pioneer in original cast albums, and whose catalog in this field is very extensive, recorded "Mr. Wonderful" in April and has had tremendous success in the sales department. Among the terrific tunes heard on the disc are title song, tenderly treated by Olga James who plays the role of Sammy Davis' girl friend; "To Close For Comfort," a most enjoyable, light-hearted novelty by Sammy; and "Without You, I'm Nothing," a superb little ditty tailor-made for a boy-girl night club act.

MGM Records has the wonderful Joni James cast in the role of "Little Girl Blue" as she sings twelve top ballads of indigo tinting. Joni is at her wistful, winsome best in some of her finest performances on wax to date. Songs include "I'm Thru With Love," "These Foolish Things," "It's the Talk of the Town," "Autumn Leaves" and "That Old Feeling."

'AMBASSADOR SATCH' Followers of Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong, who is now touring West Africa with his great band, will be happy to know that the highspots of his "diplomatic" mission to Europe are contained in a new Columbia release. The album, titled "Ambassador Satch," was recorded on the spot in Western Europe. It is flavored with some of the intense audience reaction that inspired a recent "I Can See It Now" TV show and the world.

A fresh new jazz combo makes its Epic debut as "The Mitchell-Ruff Duo." Dwight Mitchell on piano and Willie Ruff on bass and French horn. The twin set up a colorful variety of tonal combinations, exploring old jazz, new jazz and classical music as well.

Mitchell and Ruff, who made their debut as a single unit in 1955, have dispensed with the need for drums or guitar, the bass being only very occasionally used as pure accompaniment. Their repertoire include many of the better things in popular music.

Everyone knows that Sara Vaughan can sing a ballad second to none and this is evidenced in her warm, intimate Mercury interpretation of "That's Not the Kind of Love I Want." However, few are familiar with Sara's tremendous ability to "swing out" on a vocal. In jazz she interprets, but with "Hot and Cold Running Tears," she belts in a frantic swinging groove.

DRUMMERS FEATURED Two new Verve LP's feature drummers Gene Krupa and Buddy Rich. Krupa, Anita O'Day and Roy Eldridge are united again in a thumping, happy, jump-for-joy type of album titled "Drummer Man." On a different kick, "Buddy Rich Sings Johnny Mercer" features

Gregory Peck In "The Man In The Gray Flannel Suit" Tops Big Double Bill At The Walker Sun. Thru Wed.

"Man in the Gray Flannel Suit" at Walker
AT A CRUCIAL MOMENT in his post-war life, Gregory Peck allows his thoughts to go back over various wartime incidents shared with his Italian-American buddy (Keenan Wynn) in the hit film, "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," which starts Sunday at the Walker. Based on Sloan Wilson's best-seller and produced by Darryl F. Zanuck for Twentieth Century-Fox, the CinemaScope film features an all-star cast including Jennifer Jones, Frederic March, Marisa Pavan, Lee J. Cobb, and Ann Harding as well as Peck and Wynn.

tures such sentimental favorites as "Skylark," "Fools Rush In," "Blues in the Night" and "Dream." Bud Powell and the Modern Jazz Sextet have recorded new albums for the Norgram banner. "Piano Interpretations by Bud Powell" shows Powell's restless, self-driving and fiercely creative mind. In the album, for example, Powell takes a George Shearing original dating back nearly a decade, "Conception," and for all Shearing's brilliance with the song Powell gives it a fresh, invigorating interpretation with an intriguing pattern of ideas. "The Modern Jazz Sextet" features Dizzy Gillespie, Sonny Stitt, John Lewis, Skeeter Best, Percy Heath and Charlie Persip. Here is jazz that includes the basic ingredients of the Down Beat award—and more besides. What piano-and-rhythm-section quartet wouldn't be bolstered by such great instrumentalists?

LITTLE RICHARD UPSSETS HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Little Richard, the nation's newest and most sensational rock and roll phenom, captivated over 5,000 screaming fans at Gene Norman's rhythm and blues bash in Shrine auditorium Friday night. Performing with reckless abandon, Little Richard held the crowd in the palm of his talented hands. He had them on the edge of their chairs, dancing in the aisles and pleading for "more, more," long after he had left the stage. Spectacular renditions of his Specialty Recording hits, "Tutti Frutti," "Long Tall Sally" and "Slippin' and Slidin'" sent the house into mad ravings and thunderous applause.

TWO GREAT PICTURES at Walker Sunday . . . (No. 1) Glenn Ford stars in "Jubal." Acclaimed by critics and public alike for his fine performances in a series of pit films, Glenn Ford gets a complete change of pace with the challenging and highly dramatic role of the drifter in Columbia Pictures' "Jubal," which also stars Ernest Borgnine and Rod Steiger at the Walker Sunday thru Wednesday in CinemaScope and color by Technicolor.

This has been Ford's year of dramatic triumph. A more-than-competent performer and leading man, the versatile actor has suddenly come into his own, reeling off one brilliant performance after another in completely different roles.

"Jubal" introduces to the screen sultry Valerie French and blonde Felicia Farr. Also featured are Basil Ruysdael and Noah Berry, Jr. Russell S. Hughes and Delmar Daves, who directed, penned the screen play of the Columbia drama, based on a novel by Paul D. Wellman.

No. 2 pix stars Gregory Peck in "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit." Darryl F. Zanuck's personally produced picture for Twentieth Century-Fox, was Gregory Peck's first picture at the studio since he made "Night People" nearly two years ago. The screen-version of Sloan Wilson's best seller plays the Walker Sunday thru Wednesday and it was written and directed by Nunnally Johnson just as "Night People" was. The picture also is Peck's first assignment since he completed "Moby Dick" in Europe.

Co-starred with Peck in "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit" are Jennifer Jones and Frederic March. Marisa Pavan, Lee J. Cobb, Ann Harding, Keenan Wynn and Gene Lockart head the all-star supporting cast for this CinemaScope picture in color by DeLuxe.

Now showing thru Sunday is "Teenage Crime Wave" with Bobby Richards in the starring role. Companion pix is "Vanishing American" with Scott Brady in color. Plus "King's Thief" with Ann Blyth with the "Monster and Ape" as an added attraction.

DIZZY GILLESPIE TOUR LOST $92,000 IN MIDDLE EAST

NEW YORK (ANP)—The Middle East tour of Dizzy Gillespie's 16-piece jazz band resulted in a deficit of about $92,000, according to Robert C. Schnitzer, general manager of the International Exchange Program.

The deficit will be made up from the President's Emergency Fund for International affairs, administered by the State Department.

The two-month tour, which began March 25 with a concert in Abadan, Iran, and ended last week in Athens, included 64 concerts in 15 cities. It was under sponsorship of the State Department in conjunction with the International Exchange Program of the American National Theatre and Academy. It marked the first time a jazz band has been sent abroad in connection with the program.

SHOWN RIGHT IS Jimmy Collins, modern and progressive pianist, who has won quite a reputation for himself in the music world. Mr. Collins is both composer and arranger, and has several songs to his credit. He is featured as a single on the piano and doubles as vocalist, and has the reputation of having played at some of the city's top bistros. The well known 88'er is considered quite versatile in his field because of his individual stylings on the keyboard.

His wife Sarah, also a pianist, is a graduate of Homer Phillips Hospital in St. Louis, Mo. The couple lives in West 39th st.

SELECTED AMONG SINGLES. Noted recently—"Difference between Eartha Kitt and Nat 'King' Cole is the same as that between talent and genius." Got to go along with that, although both of them are tops in this corner. Check back over the years that the "merry Ol' soul" has been non the scene each year with at least one topper in the tune market. That takes genius. But not forgetting La Kitt, although she has not been in the national limelight long enough to really tell whether hers is "talent" or approaches "genius" she is rapidly making strides which will lift her to the higher classification. Hers is popularity now at its highest.

REAL CRAZY ABOUT US IN THE OLD WORLD. It's like living in another country. There isn't any JIM CROW over there stated Baba Gonzales, the mad Be-Bop king recently after returning to this country from a singing engagement in England and France. Duke Ellington, Leonard Entertainers who have worked Armstrong, Lena Horne and other and Leonard, dance team, Louis abroad agree with Babs They all rave about the non-bias treatment they receive. They sang, danced, and played music in the top-spots in England, France, Sweden, Norway and Germany and lived in the best places. This is the type of reception America is Negro entertainers have received abroad since the end of World War I, and are still receiving.

This is why an even greater number of Negro entertainers go abroad each year. Just why do Europeans like Negroes from the States? Sugar Ray, who was treated like a king when touring Europe, offers this answer: "Over there they aren't interested in your color, your background or pocketbook. All they want to know is what you offer and whether you will be an asset to their city and country." If the answers are all 'yes', then you'll score a clean K.O. with the people. THEY LOVE US FOR WHAT WE ARE.

VAMP TILL READY. 88. playing comedian Ukie Sherin told his agent he likes to play in places that are so quiet you can hear a pin drop. So the agent booked him into a bowling alley (smile). Scientists who claim that the human body is worth less than a dollar, should talk to Dick Contino. His little finger is worth $100,000. Contino has insured his hands for one million dollars, or one hundred thousand bucks per digit. Arthur Godfrey recites the be-bopper's epitaph. "Don't dig me now, I'm really gone." Jack Webb, whose Dragnet show has already produced two hit records, is working on a third. Webb had a special song titled "Funny Man" written for a TV show and is now trying to arrange a recording of the song. Tennessee Ernie Ford told his TV audience he was going deer hunting in the coldest part of Utah. Next day he received two pairs of "longies" in the mail.

COUNT BASIE'S NEW BAND is lavishly led as the best there is at this time, according to Barry Ulanov, reporter for the Metronome, popular Musician's Mag. Giving detailed praise to each section of the band and a number of the individual musicians in it, Ulanov says: "If there is a better band around right now than I haven't heard it—in person, no records, in broadcast, TV, or any other way. Of the Count, the writer says "that he never lets a soloist down," and of the band, "the swings from the rhythm section out, sets every figure with a moving beat." Plans are on foot in New York city for a movie of the life of the late board-beater, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson. Already auditions are being held and the sifting for supporting roles is under way.

THE LOCAL CATS. 'Tee' Green, trumpet and his unit will gig Saturday night at one of our leading bistros. As some of you cats know, 'Tee' made a name in the East with many of the 'name bands' sometime ago. Count Fisher currently at the '39 Club in down town Naptown. Has been at this spot a long while, over five months or more. That is some record for this spot, due to the fact, in the past, three to four weeks was the deal for any crew appearing there. Johnny Harris and trio featuring the lovely vocalist Tiny Brown still waiting at the Brass Rail Tavern. King Booker, 88'er now making records for a Chicago company. Brownie, sensational drummer has returned to the city after an absence of 15 years. I hear that he is looking for a gig. Incidentally bass-man Billy Crow is also back after working with Tab Smith's combo in St. Louis, Mo.

Lavon Kemp and orchestra playing one-nighters over the city. Jimmie Cole currently touring the South with a large Rock N' Roll package show. Willis Dyer still coolin' it at the Tropic Club. Hubert Thomas' trio talk of the Topper Nite Club. LINDA OF DULUX. When Henry Stone of DeLux Records was stopped by a motor-cycle policeman in Miami recently, he attempted to talk himself out of a ticket. Unlike most of us, Mr. Stone was successful. It seems that the cop was in a harmonica trio and was interested in doing some recording. The Harmonica is latest release on DeLux Label is "Tuxedo Junction."

The studios and manufacturing plant of Capitol Records in Hollywood were visited recently by TV cameramen, trace the course of musical sound from time to time on the microphone until it is released from a vinyl disk over a home record player. The TV show, "Industry On Parade," is a weekly TV newsreel released to KRCA, Los Angeles, as well as stations throughout the country and through the U. S. Information Agency to many foreign countries also.

BANDLEADER EDWARD "DUKE" ELLINGTON now 57 years old, famous for his sophisticated jazz music from the start of his great career set out to create his own style of music from the basic sounds and rhythms of Dixieland. Duke started with a five-piece hot jazz combo in New York City at the age of twenty-four. Playing for the Kentucky Club. In 1927 he enlarged his aggregation and invaded the famous Cotton Club, created new arrangements and soon had the best of the chetra in Harlem. Often called "The Aristocrat of Jazz," Ellington pioneered with unusual harmonies, unique orchestrations and daring forms.

Describing the band recently, News Week wrote: "The five saxes play with savage bite. The three trombones clip off their own high-swinging ensemble passages and the four trumpets blaze away with such ferocity that the effect becomes strangely airy and bodiless." Jazz trumpeter Miles Davis' comment: "Oh, God! I love Duke that band kills me." Editor: You want believe it. THE BEAT LEAVES THESE LINES TO LIVE BY: — ONE CAN'T LIVE IN THIS WORLD BY THEMSELVES. Indpls Dodgers Play At Douglas Sunday

The Naptown Dodgers, who won four impressive victories over the past week, will bring a fat 6-2 won and lost record before the hometown fans Sunday when they meet the Columbus Giants at Douglass Park.

Willie Cornett, the ace of the Dodgers' mound corps, will hurl for the fast-moving Indianapolis team.

The Dodgers dropped Fortville 5-0 Memorial Day at Douglass Park. They topped the Lebanon Friday 8-3 in 10 innings, and took both ends of a doubleheader, 11-1 and 5-4, at Campbellsville, Ky., Sunday.

Cornett gave up only three hits as he shut Lebanon out. He grabbed three hits himself in four trips to the plate. Charles Skaggs, first baseman, and centerfielder Bud Harris each got two hits.

In that 10-inning affair at Lebanon Bud Harris pitched good ball, serving only four hits and striking out 14 in the regulation nine innings. But the Dodgers were collecting only two hits. However, they came flashing on in good form in the extra inning and scored six runs as the Rebels made repeated errors.

Bud came back to win the first game of the Campbellsville twin bill. His teammates got behind him with heavy bats and blasted 17 hits in the 11-1 contest. Will-Cotton's second win over the respected and one-time top-ranking Giardello came on a split decision. He had won a unanimous decision over Joey just three weeks prior.

The second win brought the Ohio pug offers of a July 9 date against either unbeaten Rory Calhoun or Gil Turner for the St. Nick's Arena, a possible go at Madison Square Garden or something in Toledo.

Satch has only won one game but has appeared in 11 and compiled a neat 2.32 earned run average. In an appearance last week, the old maestro relieved 21-year-old Seth Morehead and nailed down Miami's 3-2 victory over Havana.

The Indiana High School Athletic Association announced last week a new rule which relaxes the controls on opening football games and at the same time set forth a ban on participation of Hoosier high school athletes in coaching school demonstrations outside the state.

The IHSAA decided schools may play their opening football game before the official opening of the school year, provided the contest is not prior to Sept. 1.

The Vee-Jay record stars — The El Dorados, billed as the "Tornadoes of Vocal Rhythm," and Church "Maybelle" Berry will headline the triple attraction at the beautiful Green Lantern ballroom on Sunday evening, June 10 in Anderson, Ind. Appearing on the same bill is Willie Dixon and his red hot orchestra. A capacity crowd is expected for the Big 3 Dance affair.

The El Dorados are proving themselves the musical sensation of the day, and will give with such popular songs as "At My Front Door," "I'll Be Forever Loving You" and many others. The boys should attract a capacity crowd from nearby cities.

Chuck Berry, creator of "Maybelle," "30 Days Together" and "Wee Wee Hours" is rated as the No. 1 slot on all musical charts, and have been packing 'em in throughout the country. Chuck and his combo will add much to the merry bill.

Willie Dixon and his celebrated dance band fit nicely in the musical groove, having played at some of the finest dance halls and theaters in the Middle West. The band brings a unique style of swing into this section of the state and is sure to be a hit with local dancers.

Ike Parker and Arthur Miller have gone to tremendous expense in order to bring the best possible attractions into Anderson and at Indiana's most beautiful ballroom — The Green Lantern, located on West 8th st.

Admission to the dance is $1.75 advance and $2.00 at the door. Hours are from 9 till 1 a.m. For table reservations—call 9652 Anderson. Advance tickets are on sale at the Blue Note in Anderson, Ebony Lounge and Play Boy's Bar, in Indianapolis. No person under 18 will be admitted. ANSWER CALL TO "PLAY BALL": When the opening day ceremonies for the Douglas Park Little League were held last Saturday this group of happy eager boys were on hand to answer the umpire's bellow to "play ball." The boys represent the four major league teams. Little League games are played on Monday and Tuesday evenings with double-headers on Saturday afternoon. The public is invited to watch the games. Teams are sponsored by business people and organizations and the Douglass league is still short on sponsors. (Story on Page 11.)

Predicting "Heavy" Champ Hard Task

Predicting who will be the next heavyweight champion of boxing is a difficult matter, for many reasons. So many IFS enter into the calculation that one dares not venture out too far on the fistie limb.

There are, for instance, a couple of tests coming up which could considerably change the heavyweight picture—such as it is Archie Moore, the No. 1 heavyweight contender, faces a problem in having to scale down to 175 pounds to defend his light heavyweight laurels against Yolande Pompey in London, June 5. Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, the No. 2 heavyweight challenger, faces an act test in his 12-round elimination bout with young Floyd Patterson in New York's Madison Square Garden, June 8.

To remain in little contention, both must win. Moore, because at this stage of the game he can't afford a loss to someone in his own division and seriously challenge in the heavier division; Jackson, because he's gone the limit under present conditions and a loss to Patterson would definitely eliminate him.

THERE ARE OTHER FELLOWS who are also angling for title consideration. But for the time being at least it doesn't seem feasible to consider them as likely candidates to succeed to the championship. Hunking Bob Baker and Johnny Holman have already been eliminated, and others like Johnny Summerlin, Willie Pastrano, Harold Carter, Bob Satterfield and Heli Nehaus are not serious contenders.

More figures to win over Pompey, despite the Britisher's youth and reported stamina. Moore, it seems from the ball for Pompey. In boxing, however, one must never rule out the element of surprise, and Pompey, on that basis, must be given a chance to win.

As for "Hurricane" Jackson, it's a different story. The moody New are played on Mondays and Tuesdays at 5:30 with double headers at Douglas Park each Saturday at 3:30.

It is possible for an all-star team, made up of members from the four "major" teams to participate in the national tournament to be held in Williamsport, Pa., in July. The team would get there by winning a series of tournament here and in the state.

THE LEAGUE IS FINANCED by contributions of business people and organizations. Men of Odyssey, RCA Victor, East 25th Street Merchants, and Eastside Businessmen sponsor the major league teams. Corey's Market and the Hidephones Club sponsor two of the minor league teams.

For a successful season, the league needs more sponsors, and more volunteer workers who will help train, coach and officiate.

Rosters of all eight teams will appear in The Recorder next week.

For good printing "in a hurry," phone The Indianapolis Recorder Printing Co., ME. 4-1545. You will be pleased and proud of the work.

Henry Armstrong Suffers Stroke

LOS ANGELES (ANP)—Henry Armstrong, the ring's only triple champion, Sunday was reported recovering from a stroke which has hospitalized him at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Armstrong, who was first reported as being "... not mentally clear," was described Sunday as improved.

He suffered a convulsive seizure in his home last Saturday, following a digestive disorder.

Sunday, Armstrong was well enough to receive visitors, including his wife.

A physician at County General gave the following explanation of Armstrong's condition: "There is no indication of brain or nervous system damage. In other words, Armstrong is not punch drunk." However, Armstrong will undergo several days of medical tests before leaving the hospital.

Now an ordained minister, the Rev. Mr. Armstrong, has of late been active in youth and prayer movements here. Once reported in financial straits, he tried his hand at salesmanship for a department store, and ran a boxing gym here.

Known in his ring days as "Hammer Hank" because of his windmill punching, Armstrong won the featherweight championship from Petey Sarron in New York City on a sixth-round KO Oct. 29, 1937. He defeated Barney Ross to annex the welterweight title on May 31, 1938, and won the lightweight title from Lou Ambers Aug. 17 of the same year. He retired from the ring in the early 1940s after losing to Ray Robinson and Fritz Zivic.

He had held all three titles simultaneously, becoming the only man in ring history to accomplish the feat.

Lionel Hamptons Sue For Three Million Plus

NEW YORK (CNS) — Lionel Hampton and his business manager-wife, Gladys, have filed a damage suit in Federal Court here asking for the sum of $3,216,736, based on an auto accident on U. S. Route 85, near the Mexican line.

The Hamptons and 27 members of the band are asking for the three million plus sum from the Charter Coach Corp. of Newark, N. J. and the Firestone Rubber Tire Co. In their complaint they say they chartered a coach company bus with rented tires from Firestone for a tour and that on October 1st, 1955 a tire blew out near Socorro, Mexico.

The bus then fell into a culvert, injuring seriously the occupants with Lionel, himself shaken up for months. They claim property was damaged and earnings diminished. They also charge the bus was speeding at the time of the accident.

GI 'TURNCOATS': More than two years ago, a score of American veterans of the Korean war chose Communism, rather than return to the United States. Sixteen of them are still in Communist China. Seven of the American "turncoats," and one from Scotland, are shown here for the first time, in their quarters at the University of Pekin. Left to right are: Harold Webb, Fort Pierce, Fla.; Andrew Condron, Scotland; (in rear standing) Morris Wills, Fort Ann, N. Y.; Richard Corden, Providence, R. I.; Clarence Adams, Memphis, Tenn.; Jack Dunn, Baltimore, Md.; Andrew Fortuna, Detroit, Mich.; and Bill White, Plummerville, Ark. The men admitted that what they missed most was beer, baseball and girls. (Newspress Photo).

Boycott Leader Pleads For Faith, NAACP Support

By ALICE A. DUNNIGAN
WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—"Support the NAACP, live up to the ideals of Mary McLeod Bethune, stick close to Christianity, don't give up faith, and one day we will have the Democracy we are all hoping for."

This was the advice given by Mrs. Rosa Parks to the women attending the "New Crusade" conference sponsored by the National Council of Negro Women at the Statler Hotel, Saturday.

Mrs. Parks, whose arrest in Montgomery, Ala., six months ago, set off the spark that lighted the flame for the bus boycott in that city, pledged to "continue in every way I can to make Democracy a reality."

"Coming up in a segregated society does something to you—not only to the oppressed but also to the oppressor," said Mrs. Parks. "The sooner the myth of white supremacy is done away with the better off we will be. There is only one race—the human race—and we are all children of one God."

Mrs. Parks referred to the Supreme Court decision on school segregation as a second Emancipation. "But nothing will be done about it unless the people do something themselves on a community level."

This courageous woman felt that this was her responsibility to do something toward promoting equal justice in her community. She recalled having heard Mrs. Bethune speak, sometimes back in the 40s. She remembered that this great leader advised her audience to prepare themselves for any opportunity which might arise, even if one never comes. It is better to do this than have several opportunities present themselves and you are not prepared for them.

Perhaps it was this advice which inspired Mrs. Parks to attend workshops at the Highland Folk School in Tennessee to discuss desegregation. "This was my first experience of living in an integrated society," stated the speaker.

When she returned home she realized how complacent or contented the people were. She had learned that you must fight for your rights, that you cannot look to other groups to do it for you.

Anxious to do her part to promote better conditions for her people, Mrs. Parks joined the NAACP and worked in many civic groups. "The people of the community knew me," she said. "They knew that I was not a person to say very much. I was not an agitator or troublemaker."

That is why they became so excited, and even angry, when they heard of her arrest for refusing to stand up on a city bus and give her seat to a white passenger.

Teachers Can Kill Two Birds With One Stone

Scholarships are still available for school teachers who wish to add three to six semester hours to their list of credits and at the same time enjoy three to six weeks stimulating study in conservation, combined with enjoyable recreation in one of Indiana's State Parks.

The 11th annual Conservation Educational Camp, held at Versailles State Park on June 18 and here the teachers, while adding credits, can enjoy swimming, nature study, hiking and photography. There's good fishing in the famous Laughery Creek.

While attending camp, teachers may live in the park, with lodging and food at small cost after the scholarship is deducted. Reservations should be mailed immediately to Howard H. Michaud, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Harley G. Hook, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation, expressed hope that a large number of school teachers would "take advantage of this marvelous opportunity."

DOMINOES TO ERECT 10-G MONUMENT FOR THEIR LATE PILOT

LAS VEGAS—Billy Ward and his Dominoes, now rounding out a nine-month record-breaking engagement at the fabulous Hotel Sahara, have announced plans for the erection of a $10,000 monument in memory of their late manager.

Mrs. Rose A. Marks, who discovered Billy Ward ten years ago, passed away last June. It was through her encouragement that Ward became one of the top vocal coaches on Broadway. And when he created his Dominoes in 1950, he was a protégé of hers.

Mrs. Marks piloted them from a win on the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout show to the top rung in the theatrical ladder in less than a year.

DECCA BRASS AGOG OVER WARD'S TUNE

NEW YORK—Enthusiastic Decca bigwigs are making long-range plans for Billy Ward and his Dominoes in the wake of what recording chief Milt Gabler described as "one of the most creative and inspiring recording sessions" he ever conducted.

Gabler recorded the Wardmen in Hollywood recently. He and staff arranger Jack Pleis returned to New York with tapes of the session which caused Decca officials no little concern—concern because the contract with the great vocal attraction has expired.

Husbands! Wives! Get Pep, Vim; Feel Younger

Thousands of couples are weak, worn-out, exhausted just because body lacks iron. For new younger feeling after 40, try Oxytreat Tablets. Contain iron for pep; supplement doses vitamins B₁ and B₂ in a single dose. Oxytreat supplies as much iron as 16 dozen eggs, 4 lbs. of liver or 16 lbs. of beef. 7-day "get-acquainted" size costs little. Or get Economy size and save $1.45. At all drugstores.

In Memoriam

Cards of Thanks

MRS. ADA HUDDLESTON
HUDDLESTON—In loving memory of our dear wife, mother, and grandmother, MRS. ADA HUDDLESTON, who passed away June 13, 1955.
Beyond all pain, and care, and sadness,
Beyond all trouble, thou art gone;
But knowing that some day we'll find thee,
Gives us courage to go on.
Sadly missed by
George Huddleston, Husband
Jessie Mae Hudson, Daughter
Hurlie Huddleston, Son
Helen Whitley, Granddaughter

REED—In loving memory of our husband and father, ISAAC HERMAN REED, who passed away June 8, 1955.
While he lies in peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by
Pearl Reed, Wife and Daughters.

JENKINS—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, HARRIETT ANN JENKINS, who passed away June 2, 1955.
Gone, but never forgotten.
Vergie Mize,
Mable Flether, Daughters,
and Grandchildren.

DAVIS—In loving memory of our mother, HATTIE DAVIS, who passed away June 8, 1955.
Your passing was quite sad,
But still it was not bad,
For we drive back tears,
When we think of the years
Of joy with you we had.
Sadly missed by
Winfield Coleman, Son,
Elizabeth Coleman,
Daughter-in-Law.

Coast Guard Lists Enlistment Dates

Opportunity for high school graduates and former servicemen to enlist in the U. S. Coast Guard is being offered this summer.
Chief Clarence B. Rowe of the Cincinnati, Ohio Coast Guard Recruiting Station has announced the schedule of visits to the Coast Guard recruiters in this area.
The recruiter will be in Indianapolis, Post Office Building on the following dates: June 6, 7, 8; July 9, 10; August 6, 7, and Sept. 6 and 7.
Men who meet the Coast Guard requirements and enlist now will train at the Coast Guard Recruiting Center, Cape May, N. J., as a group. Young men who desire to fulfill their service obligations are encouraged to visit the Coast Guard recruiter during his stay in Indianapolis. Hours 9:00 a. m. to 5 p. m.

INVITE MISS. GOVERNOR TO NAACP RALLY

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi and Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson have been invited to attend the NAACP rally here June 3.
Both officials, outspoken opponents of the NAACP, were sent invitations last week by Medgar Evers, secretary of Mississippi branches.
Neither Coleman nor Thompson has replied to the invitation.

EDWARD STRONG NABBED AT 'COMMIE' GATHERING

NEW YORK (AP)—FBI agents arrested Edward Strong last week, crashing a Communist meeting held in South Ozone Park, Long Island.
The former Southern Youth Conference leader was charged with being leader of the subversive organization sponsoring the Long Island meeting.

Walter Hale

Services for Walter Hale, 51, who died in his home, 615 N. Senate, were held at 1 p. m., Saturday, June 2 in Peoples Funeral Home, with burial in New Crown Cemetery.
Survivors include the widow, Lillian; two sisters, Roxie Anderson and Erna Natter of Indianapolis, and two brothers, Jesse and Samuel Hale of Cooksville, Tenn.

Too Much Limelight

NEW YORK (AP)—Recent newspaper stories of the stoning incident involving Percy Hill's Bronx home has led to his arrest on an eight-year-old non-support charge.
Hill's wife, Josephine, who lives in Pleasantville, N. J., said her long search for her husband ended when she saw his photographs and stories of the stoning in a Pleasantville newspaper.

Hill, 44-year-old elevator operator, and the woman he identified as his wife moved into a predominantly white neighborhood last February. The two-story frame house was stoned May 6 and 7.
Hill said in night court that the woman he identified as his wife at the time of the stonings is Cora Thompson, "a girl friend of mine."

Prince Hall Masons Give NAACP $100,000

BOSTON (AP)—The Prince Hall Masons have contributed more than $100,000 during the past five years to help the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., "to find the right formula for stamping out racial segregation and discrimination in American life and to conserve the right of Negroes to enjoy the full benefits of first class citizenship."
Thurgood Marshall, director-counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, revealed the total amount of contributions in a report made last week to the Grand Masters' Conference, Prince Hall Affiliation.

All of the money contributed has been devoted exclusively to basic research in connection with current litigation, legal techniques and implementation projects, the legal defense head told the Grand Masters.

Dr. Palmer's Beauty Aids Win Popularity Through The Recorder Advertising.

ATLANTA, Ga. — The Galenol Company, manufacturers of Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener and other beauty products, announced here today that results from their advertising in THE INDIANAPOLIS RECORDER have been so excellent that they will continue to run their advertisements on an even greater scale than ever before.

A spokesman for the company remarked that the great majority of credit for the success of Dr. Fred Palmer's Products belongs to THE INDIANAPOLIS RECORDER and other Negro media. The Galenol Company has been using the Negro Press for more than 67 years and considers it by far the most effective means of informing the great Negro market about the company's products.

MRS. JESSIE JONES, beautician for The Galenol Company, says: "To be in step with fashion today means many changes. And among these changes are brand new ideas in beauty care, and especially care of the skin. To go along with today's trend toward more informal living the natural look is becoming increasingly popular.

"It's just no longer smart to wear lots of heavy make-up. Today, modern girls and women want to improve the condition of their skin. Instead of trying to hide and cover ugly pimples, blackheads and blemishes, we want to get rid of them.

Women are looking for a smoother, lighter complexion that makes them look younger and more desirable. We sincerely believe that Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener can help women achieve this goal."

DR. FRED PALMER'S Skin Whitener is a medicated cosmetic cream that contains rich lanolin, the modern skin beautifier. Other scientific ingredients in Skin Whitener help take off unbecoming sun tan, help keep the skin clear of externally caused blemishes and pimples, and help bleach out skin. Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener comes in a regular 30-cent size and the more economical 60-cent size.

Other Dr. Fred Palmer products are Skin Delight soap, vanishing cream, face powder in two shades, and hair dresser, each selling in drug stores for only 25 cents.

For further information about Dr. Fred Palmer's fine beauty products you may write: The Galenol Company, Box 264, Atlanta, Georgia.

INCHES FROM DEATH: Bound for home at lunchtime, 10-year-old student William Jonas Adams detoured long enough to "hitch" on a Department of Sanitation sweeper truck, and almost lost his life. Bill slipped off the truck, and fell under the truck's steel brushes. Only quick action by the driver kept the youth from being sucked up into the deadly trash grinder. Bill suffered minor bruises about his body (before he got home) and spent a few days in Harlem Hospital. (Newspress Photo).

N. C. "SUPREME COURT" CONGRESSMEN DEFEATED

RALEIGH, N. C.—Two of the three North Carolina Congressmen who opposed the "Southern Manifesto" condemning the Supreme Court's rulings on desegregation, went down to defeat in the recent Democratic primaries.

Reps. C. B. Deane and Thurmond Chatham were defeated by opponents who declared loudly for segregation. Rep. Harold Cooley who also did not sign the manifesto was renominated. He made it clear, however in his campaign, that he despised the Supreme Court's desegregation rulings and was strongly opposed to the mixing of the races.

Gov. Luther Hodges Jr., and Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr., also anti-Negro, also were renominated, which is tantamount to election in this Southern state.

Red Cross Offers Proper Driving Course To Public

WASHINGTON (ANP)—A new course for licensed motorists to help them become safer drivers will be offered to the public by the American Red Cross, Ellisworth Bunker, president, announced this week.

The six-hour course originally was developed by the Red Cross, with the assistance of the American Automobile Association, for newly recruited motor service volunteers, and until recently was open to those who wished to volunteer their services through the Red Cross.

Bunker said its extension to the general public is a contribution by the Red Cross to the national effort to reduce the toll of highway accidents which annually cause 36,000 deaths and one-and-a-quarter million injuries.

The course will be open to all persons officially licensed to drive Bunker added, emphasizing that its object is to help individuals attain greater safety on the highways. It is not designed to teach beginners how to drive, he said.

"The fact that an individual has a driver's license, and may have been driving for years, does not necessarily mean he is a skillful and safe driver," Bunker observed. "Some have learned improper driving habits. Others do not have enough knowledge of how a car operates to understand its power or limitations."

Red Cross chapters will recommend that persons enrolling in the course also take the standard Red Cross first aid course, first to help make them more safety conscious and second, to enable them to give emergency first aid care if they encounter accidents along the highways.

CONVICT CHI. POLICY KING OF TAX EVASION

CHICAGO (ANP) — James D. Irving, 44, a one-time cab driver and Pullman porter who became a South Side policy figure, was sentenced last week to three years in prison for evading $139,605 in income tax for 1952.

Federal Judge William J. Campbell rejected a defense plea for probation, but granted a stay until June 11.

Irving had reported his 1952 income as $48,724 and paid taxes of $17,921. Government attorneys produced evidence to show that his net worth had increased from $18,860 at the close of 1951 to $219,773 a year later.

50 Injured As Youths Roit On Lake Steamer

BUFFALO, N. Y. (ANP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has started a full-scale inquiry into a riot between white and Negro teenagers which turned an excursion trip into a "nightmare" of horror.

A question of international jurisdiction was raised by the brawl, which occurred on a holiday boat in the international waters of Lake Erie, between Ontario, Canada, and Buffalo.

At least 50 persons were injured in the riot aboard the excursion steamer Canadian. The fighting flared after a day of disorders at Crystal Beach amusement park in Canada.

The FBI investigation was ordered by U. S. Atty. John D. Henderson, who said he believed the U. S. has "at least concurrent jurisdiction with local authorities."

Buffalo police arrested 12 youths, but charges have been filed against only two. Six of the injured persons were hurt badly enough to require hospitalization.

Witnesses described the melee aboard the vessel as a "nightmare of flashing knives and sobbing, frightened teenagers."

The Buffalo Courier-Express said that most of the trouble was caused by Negro teenagers.

TWO REPORTERS for the Courier-Express, Margaret Wynn and Dick Hirsch, said many of the white youngsters, several of them battered and bearing knife wounds, huddled below deck after attacks by Negro teenagers who made up the majority of the passengers.

"Above deck, all hell had broken loose as roving groups of Negroes calmly attacked the outnumbered white," the reporters said.

"Girls were beaten unmercifully and youths who attempted to defend them were slugged and kicked without feeling. Members of the ship's crew and private police vainly attempted to keep order, but when one fight was broken up, another flared in a different section."

It is reported that of the 1,000 persons aboard the steamer, at least 800 were Negroes.

Hirsch and Miss Wynn said most of the trouble was caused by "gangs of Negro girls who walked the deck, attacking and molesting white girls."

The trouble apparently began on the trip from Buffalo to the Canadian beach. At the amusement park, three Negroes and three white youths began fighting.

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS of both races got into the battle, the Canadian provincial police stopped the brawl and arrested nine of the combatants, five Negro and

Trainmen's Union To Admit Negro Members

WASHINGTON (ANP) — The Switchmen's Union of North America has agreed to accept colored switchmen into its membership on a basis of complete equality with white switchmen.

The decision to let down the racial barriers was decided on in a conference between the Provisional Committee of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and the Switchmen's Union.

The colored switchmen were represented by A. Philip Randolph, international president and B. F. McLaurin, international field organizer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

This makes the first time, observed Randolph, that one of the "big five" has accepted Negro workers in membership voluntarily, without any reservation whatsoever.

Randolph pointed out that the next step is to break down the membership barrier in the remaining "big four" including engineers, conductors, firemen and trainmen since the union has so much to do with the determination of wages, working conditions, mileage and even the employment policies of the carriers.
